Roger Legalo

In Memory of Rodger Legalo
Born 7/5/65
Died 9/30/82

God, our Father, mercifully welcome the soul of your servant who has completed his pilgrimage in this world. Through the death and resurrection of Jesus, Your Son, he was allowed to share Your Life in this kingdom on earth. May he now be found worthy to share Your Glory in Heaven in union with all the Saints. Amen.

This year the class of 1983 graduated less one senior. Because of a car accident, at the beginning of this school year, Rodger Legalo was tragically killed. This incident affected many of us who knew Rodger, along with many of us who did not know him. It made us all realize that accidents are inevitable and that each day should be lived as if it were the last.

Death is the part of life no one quite realizes until it is upon us. As the shock and pain of the loss becomes a reality, the future looms dark and frightening.

This year's Legenda is dedicated to the memory of Rodger Legalo.

May his soul rest in Peace.

An innocent bystander, Barbe Mills, gets all wrapped up in the yearbook theme.

Sit back and enjoy the 1982-83 Legenda.

Every production, from the time the first frame is shot until the last bit of editing is done, is constructed through the combined efforts of the producer, director, writers, cast and crew.

This production documents a real life drama spanning a single year, yet recording memories that will last a lifetime.

It is a production that required months of time to complete, but the moment for it's unveiling has arrived.

The house lights dim. The curtain rises. Anticipation augments. Hours of planning, writing, staging, shooting and editing behind them, the anxious cast and crew assemble for the first time on the other side of the camera to view the premier showing of the 1983 Legenda.

Intermission

"Fast Times at Ridgemont High," "The Last American Virgin" and the "Class of 84" all portrayed Hollywood's idea of high school life. Student life at Arthur Hill may not be as action packed as these movies, but students were capable of having a good time.

Remember friends running up, bursting with excitement over something they "had to tell you"? How about those dances, pep assemblies and strange 4th hour announcements?

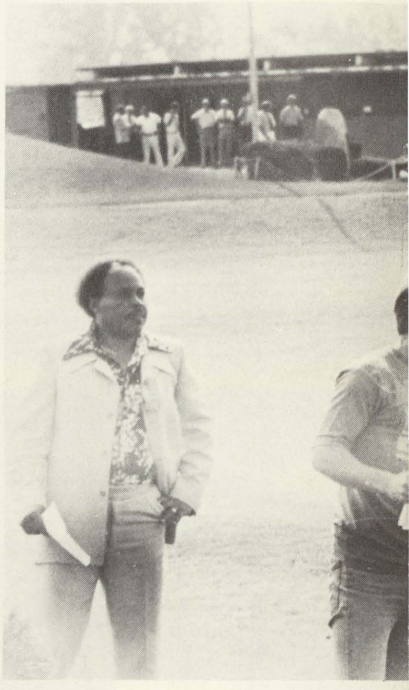

High school isn't just getting an education it can also be some of the memories and friends you'll have forever.

In keeping the theme, this year's cheerleading squad makes a big entrance in a fire truck.

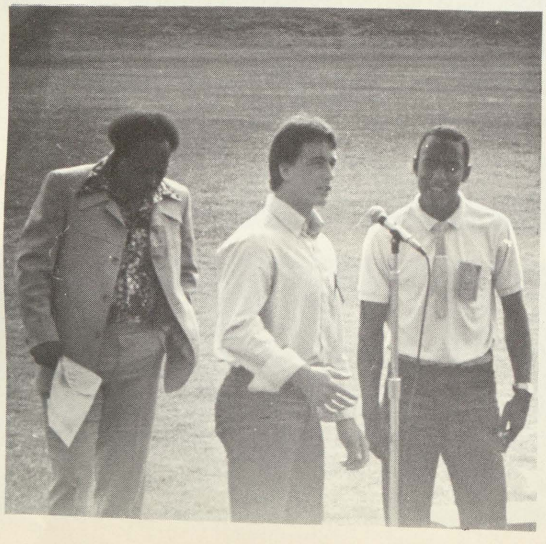

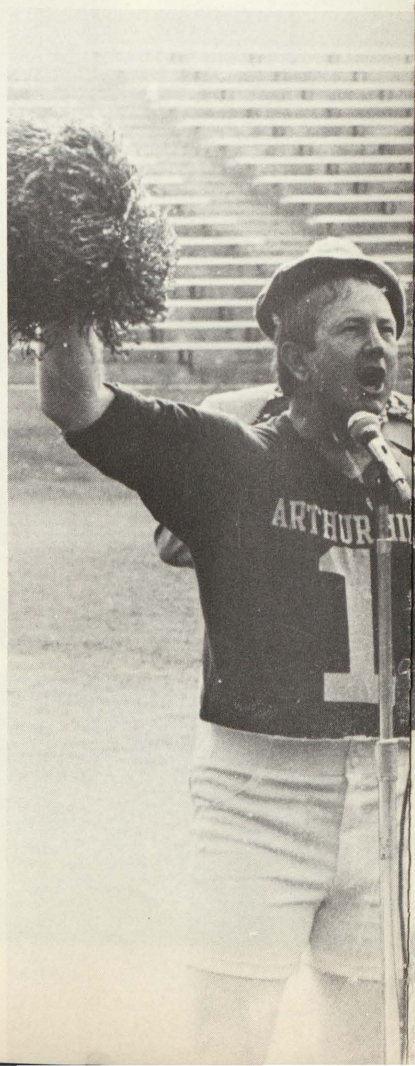

Express Your Spirit

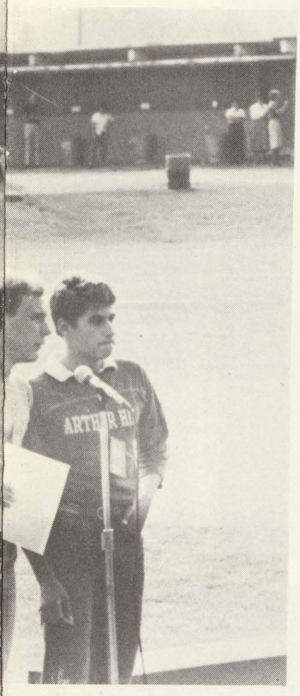

Arthur Hill students and faculty enthusiastically expressed their school spirit at the annual Pep rally at the beginning of the school year in the Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium.

Cheerleaders made their entrance in a fire truck and threw "fireball" candy to the fans and to get them fired up. They led the student body in cheers for the top-ranked Lumberjacks.

The Highlight of the Pep rally was Mr. Sharpe's annual "strip tease" and finally his appearance in Arthur Hill attire. He challenged Coach Ihler to beat him in a victory cheer. The goal of pep rallies is to see that this type of winning spirit continues throughout the year.

"Firing up" the crowd at the rally are the J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders.

Senior Pompon girls Gina Dork, Shelly Hoffman, and Debbie Nolan stand to give their battle cry.

The Perfect Night-Cap.

The night of October 8, 1982 was a big event for Arthur Hill, it was the traditional Homecoming evening.

At half-time there was a ceremony to introduce the Homecoming Queen and her court. They rode around the field in colorful Corvettes. The Queen and her court showed their pride and appreciation for their school. The band members formed an aisle through which the Queen and her court members were escorted by their fathers or close friends.

The final event of the evening was the annual Homecoming dance in the school gym immediately after the football game. Spirits were 'up where they belonged' due to the 26-7 Hillite Victory over Midland Dow. Couples danced to the music of "Street Life".

After the dance ended most of the couples went out to the local restaurants.

Riding on the cars around the stadium at half-time are Shelley Hoffman and Wendy Vanston.

Escorting Queen Tricia down the aisle are Wayne Patterson and Nick Amos.

Memories That Will Last Forever

Homecoming is a special event that happens only once each year, but the memories of that evening live on forever in the hearts of everyone that participates.

This year, homecoming will be remembered and cherished most by the queen and the members of the court.

Principal Thomas Sharpe thought of Homecoming as one of the most "delightful and exciting events of the school year." A tradition at Arthur Hill, the annual Homecoming assembly, held the day of the game, served as the first formal presentation of Queen Tricia and her court.

The Masters of Ceremony this year were Jay Fisher and Dave Newman. They announced each court member and her escort as they marched down the aisle.

After all the members and their escorts took their places on the stage, speeches were heard from Tricia's mom, Mr. Sherpe, the football team captains and finally last year's Queen, Terri Gamez.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Dyer, the Jazz Choir sung the Homecoming theme: "Up Where We Belong."

Terri Gamez passed her crown to the reigning Queen, Tricia. The finale was a skit by the members of the court based on a popular scene from the movie Stripes.

Former Queen Terri Gamez congratulates Queen Tricia with a kiss.

Stunned by the announcement, the new Queen Tricia and court members Jane Curtis and Linda Mauro rejoice.

Jim Collison gives queen Tricia a bouquet of roses and congratulates her on her coronation.

Walk Proudly

The float that took first place was the senior's float. With a live lumberjack, Steve Fiet, they expressed their rivilry with Midland Dow. Their explosive theme was "Stop and Charge", depicted by showing two Midland Dow "Never Ready" batteries.

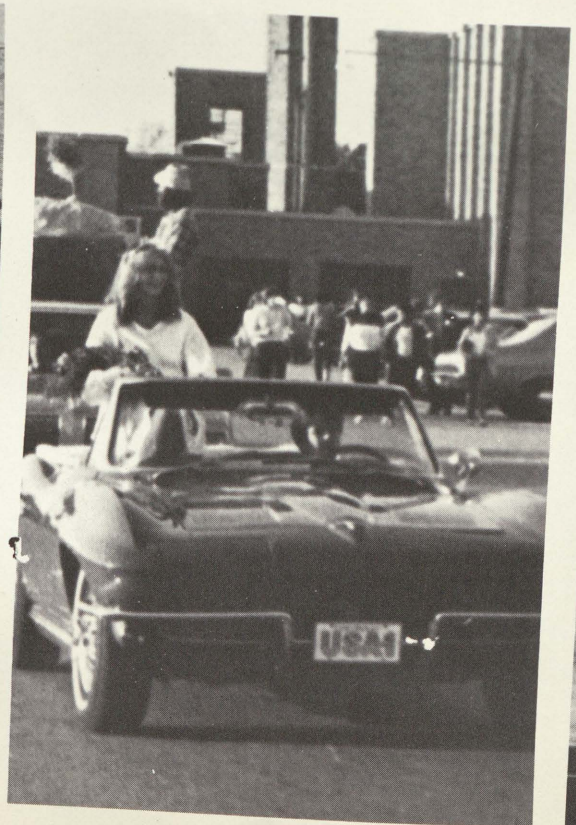

The float that took second place was the junior float. This year the juniors worked hard and came up with a float that had the theme of "Arthur Hill will reign as Midland Dow goes down the drain."

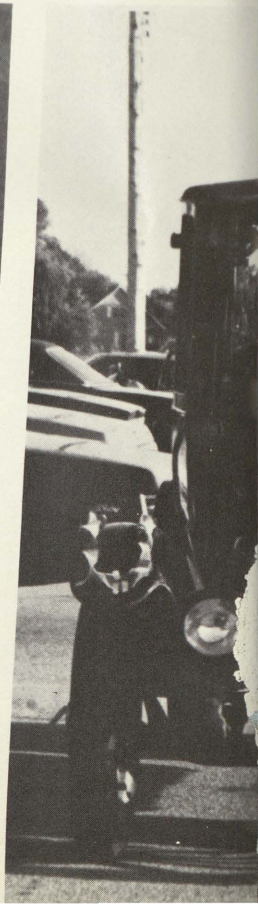

The sophomore float took third place and worked very hard. The sophmores came up with a float that had a lumberjack cutting down Midland Dow.

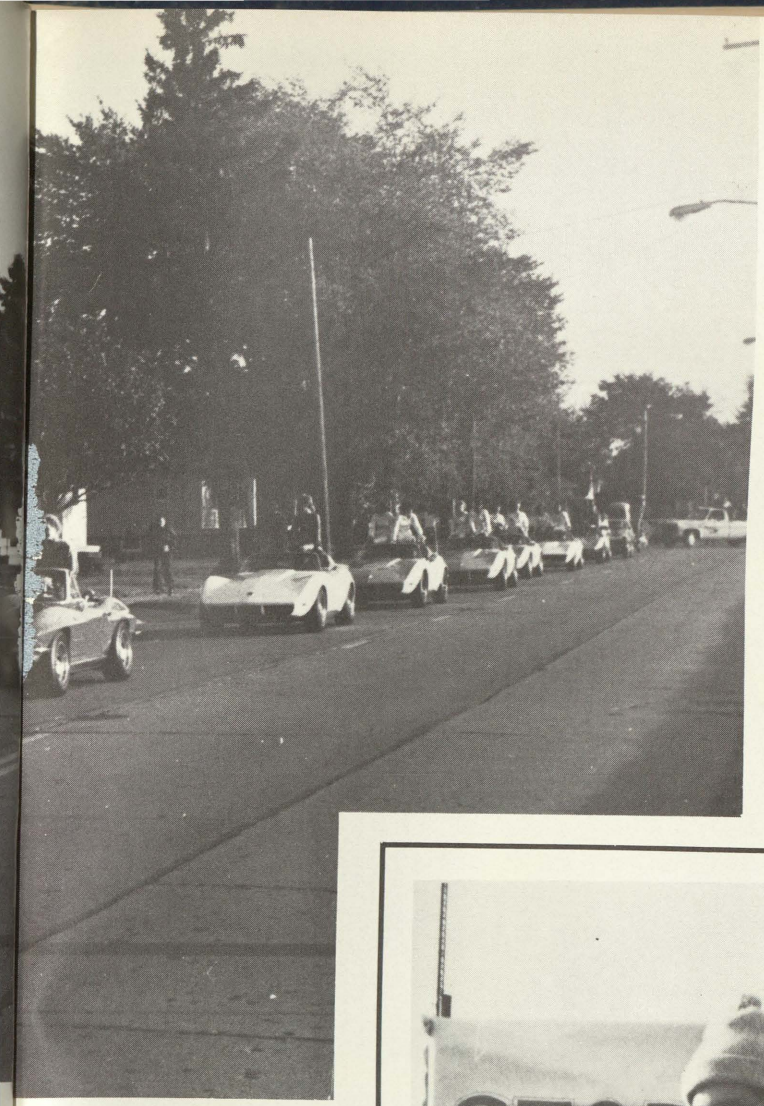

A white Corvette and two members of the Homecoming court, Shedrclc Hall and Janie Curtis start out the Homecoming parade.

Happy and excited the 1982 Homecoming queen, Patricia Marx, in her red Corvette is escorted to the game.

Big Activities Spark Student Interest, Involvement

Blue and Gold Week, a tradition that has been passed down for years. During Blue and Gold Week 1983 we "experienced" people who had a lot of school spirit and who were having fun participating in activities, such as the Annual Pancake Breakfast, Slave Auction, The Pep Club/Student Council Faculty Basketball game, and of course the "Sexy Legs" and Bubble blowing contests which will be remembered for quite a long time. Blue and Gold Week will be remembered by all as the week students showed how much spirit they had.

Playing the parts of Bob and Doug McKenzie for the junior class skit are Rick Tunney and Mary Baldwin.

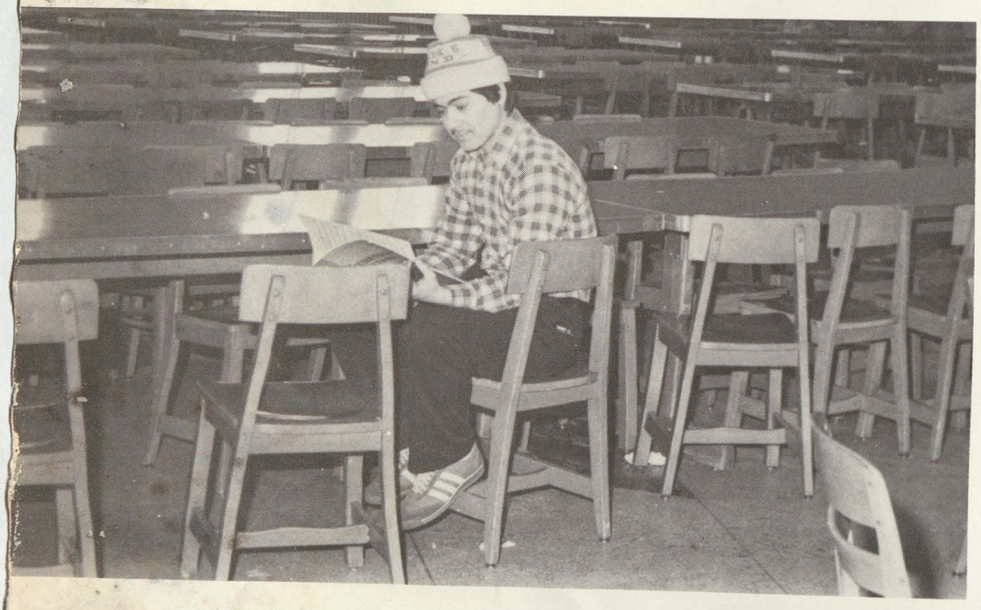

Dress to Express

Blue and Gold week is a tradition at Arthur Hill. It is usually held in February and consists of many crazy and unusual events.

Many people participated in the different dress-up days that were held.

This year the emphasis was on school spirit and pride.

At the end of the week judges made their final decisions and announced the winners. They are as follows: Lumberjack Day: Steve Feit Blue and Gold Day: Joe Slomkomski Dressy dress-up Day: Lisa Graebner Crazy Day: Donna Welsh Expressing his school spirit during Blue and Gold week, Arnold Duran wears his band uniform.

'Nick' this Years Pick

Escorted by Pom Pon captains Lori Kollman and Tracy Lancour, John Nickodemus was announced King Arthur for 1983. This year's Homecoming Attendants Tricia Kennedy and Stephanie Zackrie had the honor of crowning him. King Arthur's attendants were: Sir Galahad, Nick Amos, and Sir Lancelot, Tony Atwater. Other members of the court were: Troy Champagne, Jim Collison, Steve Cofield, Jay Fisher, Tim Schulz, Joe Karas, Doug Bookmyer, Wayne Patterson, Rodney Wilson, Jimmy Griewank, Frank Murray, and Vince Chernich. All members received a huggable teddy bear which was presented and sponsored by the Varsity Pom Pon girls.

The Crew

Anyone knows that no production is complete without the behind the scene work of the stage crew.

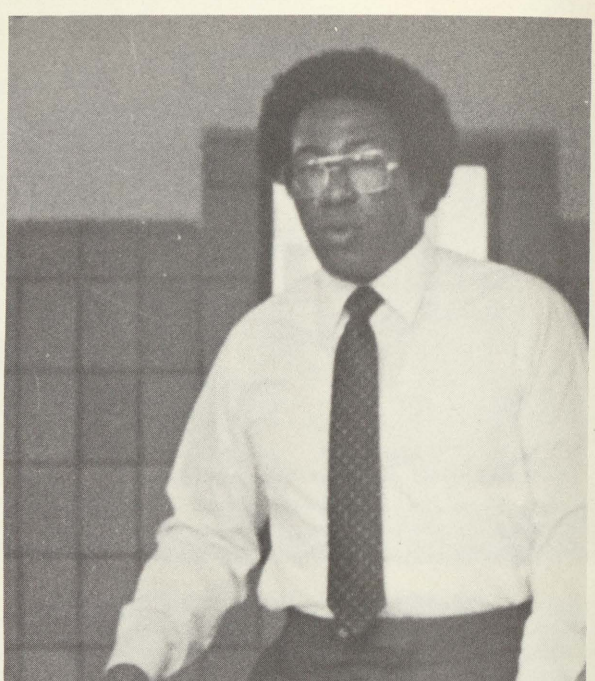

Setting the stage for future politicans, doctors, lawyers, entertainers and buisness people at Arthur Hill was the crew.

The faculty and administration combined put in over 58,000 hours of instruction and guidance during the school year.

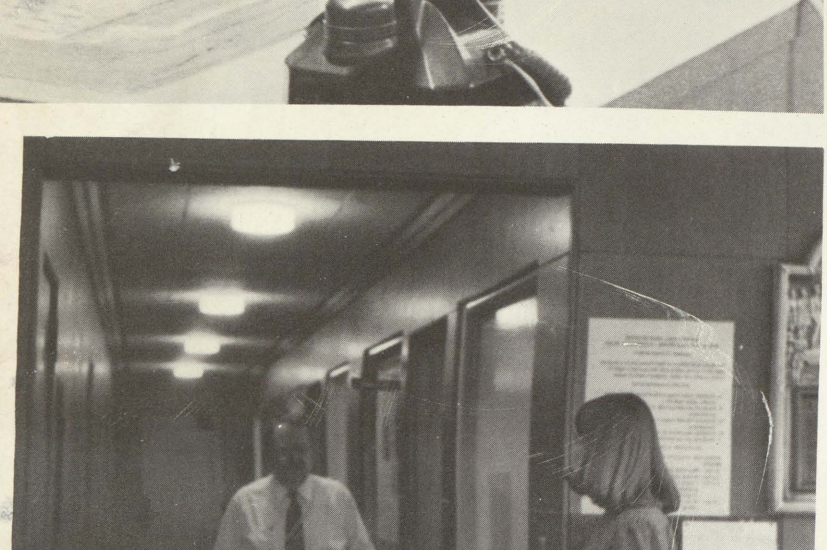

Dedicated parents, faculty members and administrators often worked overtime to help the cast reherse for their rolls in the story of tomorrow.

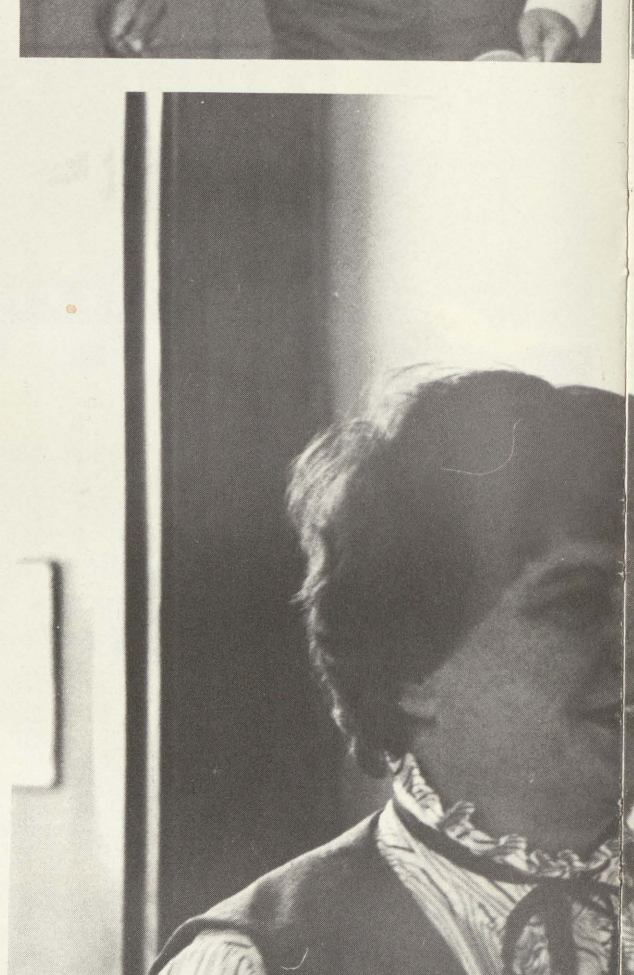

With a serious expression, Mrs. Jackie Porterfield talks on the phone.

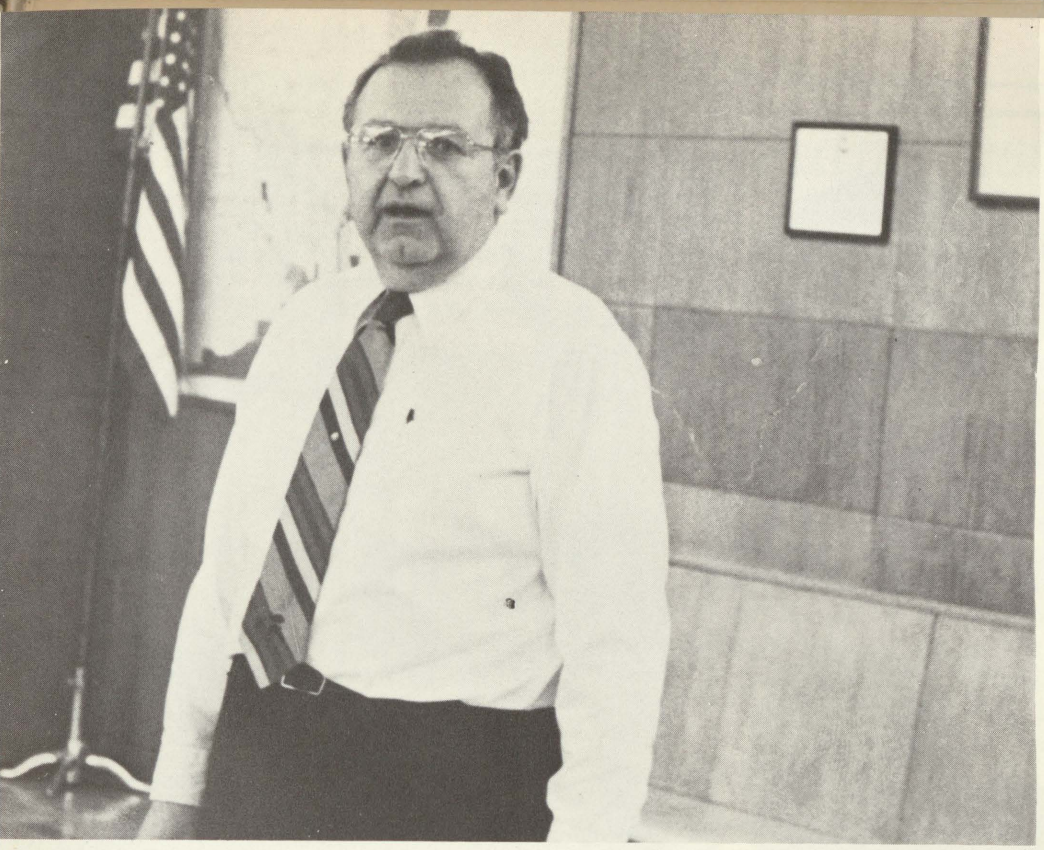

Walking up to Miss Clemens, Mr. Case sights the camera.

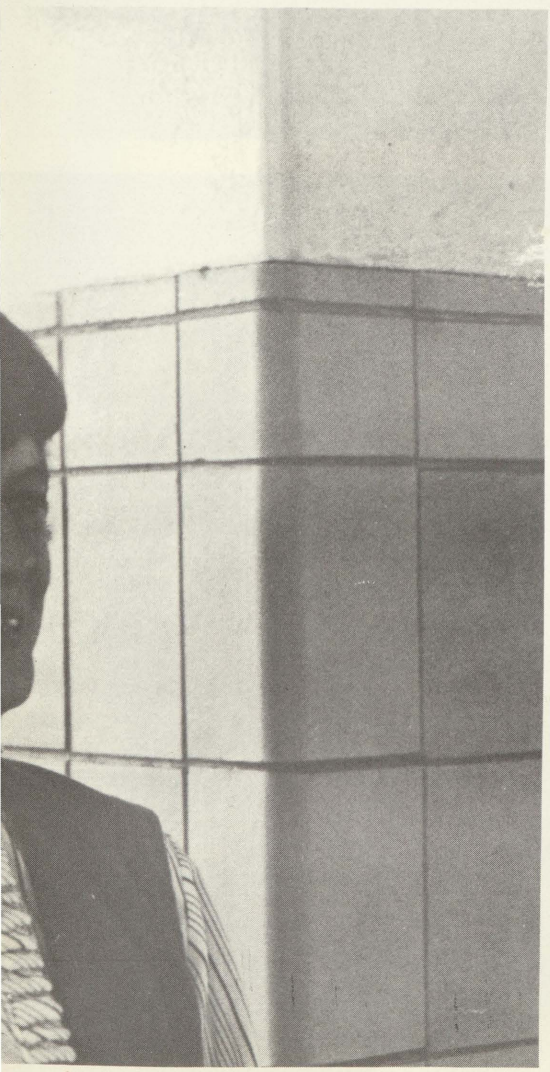

"Oh no it's you again," says Mr. Case in a fun way as his picture is being taken.

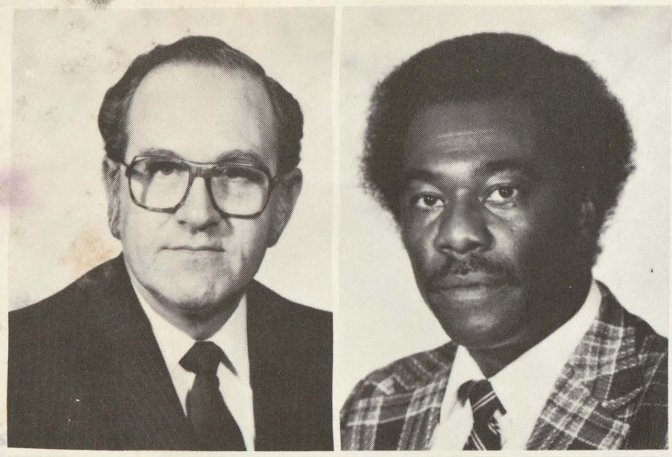

In a business like manner Kent Howenstine takes care of some work which needs to be done.

Looking off into the distance, Mary Roberts smiles as usual.

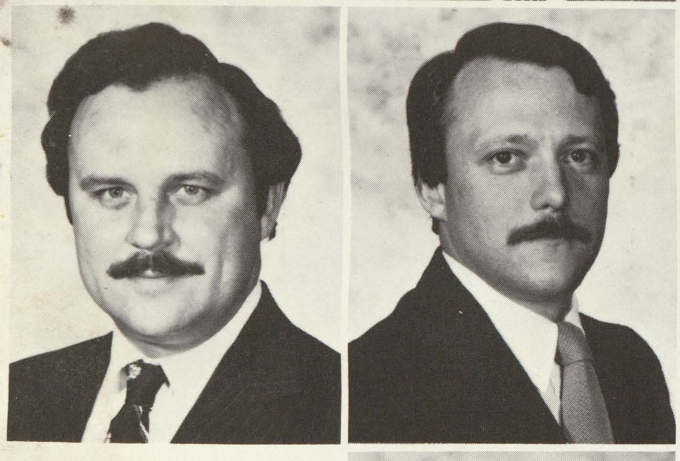

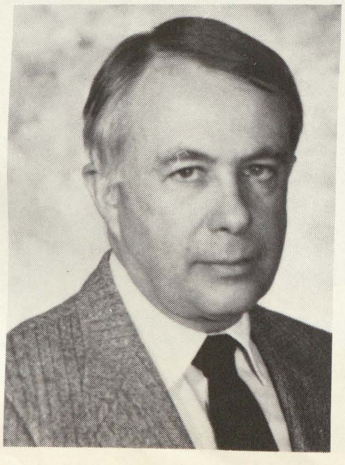

With a surprised look upon his face, Mr. Willie Allen comes in on his coffee break.

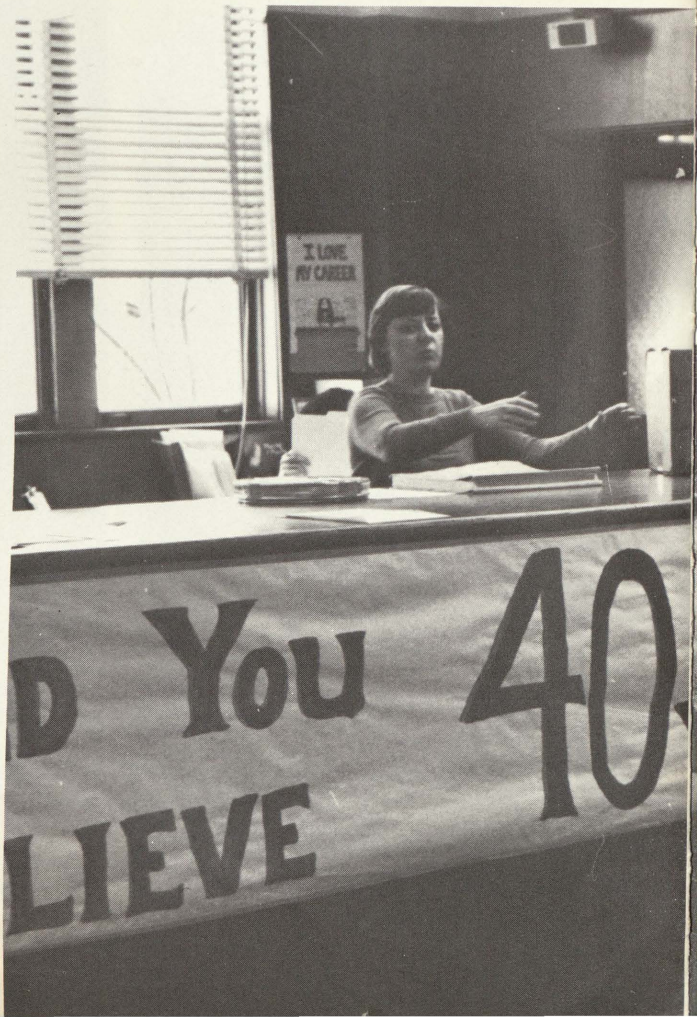

Members of the Board of Education: Roger P. Steffes, President; Willie E. Thompson; Vice-President; Ruth A. Braun, Secretary; Ruben Daniels, Trustee; John L. Denton, Trustee; James R. Kanary, Treasurer; Richard J. Stringer, Trustee.

Receiving instructions, Ms. Carol Bird pays attention to Mr. Herbert Gerber. Surprised by his fortieth birthday banner assistant principal Mr. Burris Smith takes it in stride.

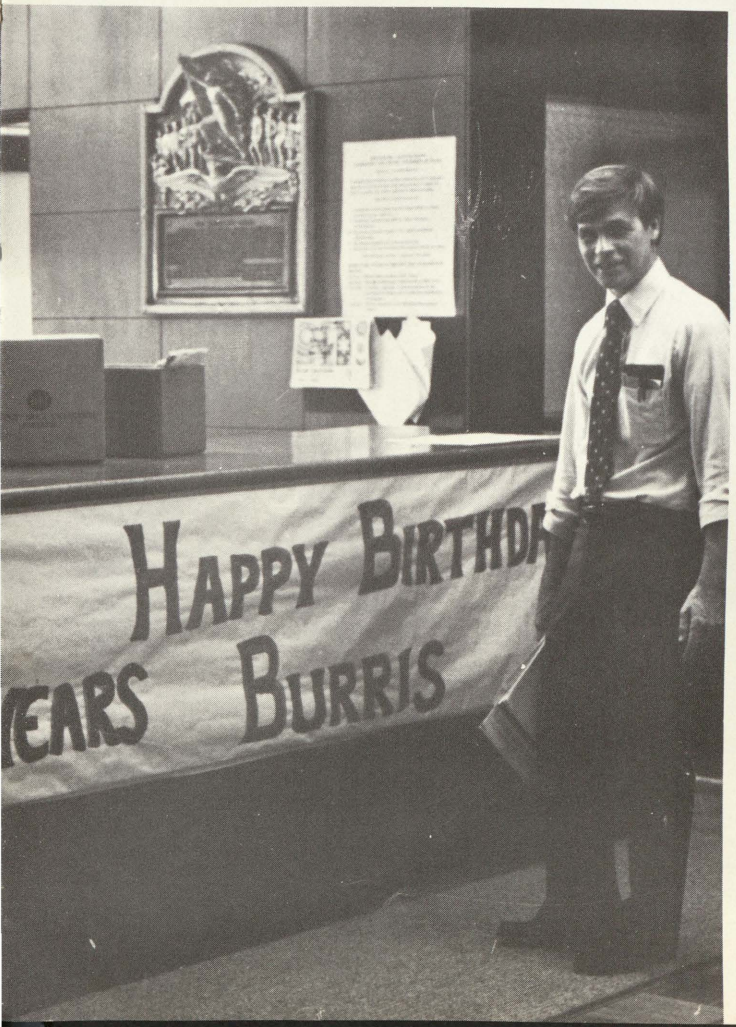

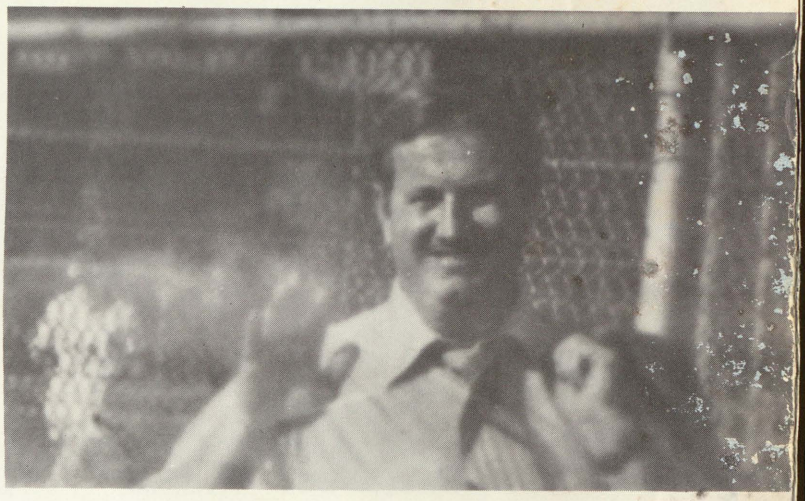

Administrators Strive to Meet Goals

This year the administration had two main goals; to improve on human relations and to help cut down on the attendance problems. Mr. Sharpe feels good about this school because the majority of the students here care about a good education.

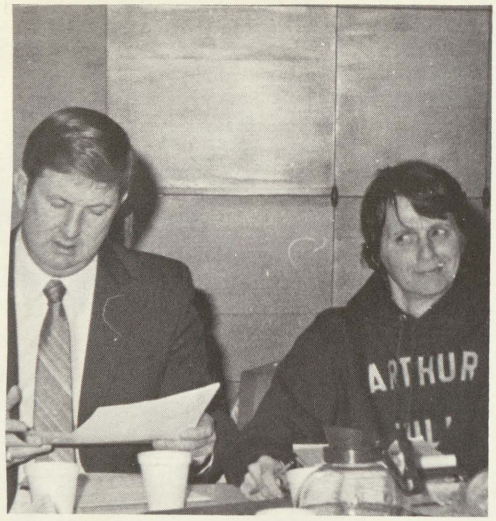

The administrators are: Mr. Thomas Sharpe, head principal; Mr. Burris Smith, assistant principal for instruction; Mr. Winston Adams, assistant principal of student personnel; Mr. Herbert Gerber, assistant Principal in charge of attendance. The administration also had a good parent advisory council that helped plan the chicken barbeque and other events this year. Mr. Sharpe feels that the faculty and staff contributed their share toward making the school run smoothly.

Showing P.A.C. involvement are a few of the officers: Mrs. Jackie Willman (treasurer), Mrs. Jean Landeryou (vice-chairman), and Mrs. Jackie Faupel (chairman).

Mr. Sharpe is caught off guard by the camera, while Mrs. Pat Heritier, Mr. Sam Maisane, and Mrs. Cheryl Moutsatson discuss important issues.

Scared to death, Ms. Renee Clemens went down for the first time on a ball thrown by Mr. Sharpe.

PAC's Spirit and Involvement Make Year a Success

The Parent Advisory Council exists so that parents can be involved with the school. The P.A.C. members participate by planning and implementing new programs.

Another important responsibility is communicating with other parents to encourage involvement in running a good school.

Many activities were sponsored by the Parent Advisory Council this year, including the 5th annual Booster Chicken Bar-B-Q in October. Approximately one thousand dollars was made from the popular fund raiser. A big money maker at the barbecue was the dunking booth. Mr. Sharpe, Ms. Clemens, and Miss Teter volunteered as well as several students.

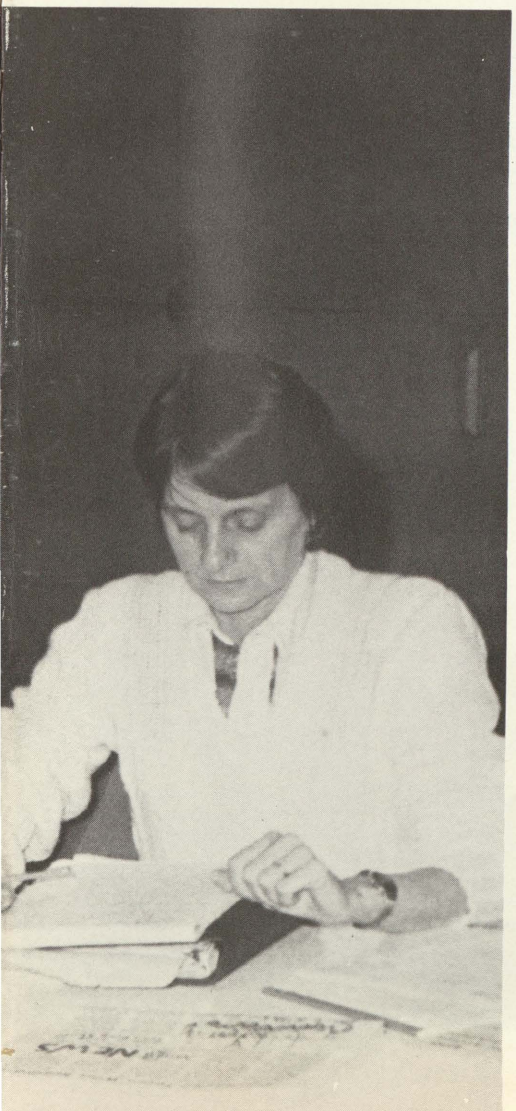

The council also participated in the Homecoming activities. One of the most memorable was the inclusion of antique cars in the parade to represent past classes.

The annual Lumberjack Breakfast was served during Blue & Gold week. The money which was raised from many school activities sponsored by the PAC is used to support extra school needs, teachers and special school projects.

Besides participating in many events the PAC sends out 4 to 6 newsletters to keep families informed of what is happening within the school and the discussions that are held at the general meetings throughout the year.

To run a good council many committees are needed. This year's committees included: The Athletic, Curriculum, Hospitality, Newsletter, Legislative, Publicity, Student Activity, and the Volunteer Committees.

In the end because of the PAC's hard work, involvement, and school spirit the 1982-83 school year was a huge success.

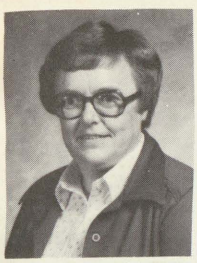

Examining the recent issue of the Arthur Hill News are Mrs. Jean Landeryou and Mrs. Jackie Faupel.

Spirited Staff.

Although times are tough, students and faculty here at Arthur Hill have managed to keep their spirit. Faculty involvement included Ms. Renee Clemens and Mr. Thomas Sharpe in the dunking machine at the annual Chicken Bar-be-que. Mr. Sam Maisano was senior advisor, he worked very hard and many hours to raise money for the senior class. Teachers also participated in Blue and Gold week and were avid advisors for many extra-curricular activities.

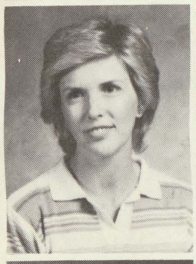

The Student body well appreciated the hard work put in by all the staff.

Action!

Action! The word embodies athletics at Arthur Hill this year. A successful football season, a record breaking year for the boy's swim team, and strong baseball, hockey, and basketball teams all contributed to the thrill of victory.

Teams adjusted to changes in coaching staff without missing a step, and went right on winning to bring favorable recognition to Arthur Hill once again.

Standing room only crowds were familiar sights at many of the games. Fans witnessed new cheers, new uniforms and a new kind of spirit and support at games, matches, and meets.

When the opponent tries to steal second base, it is important that the catcher and short stop get their signals together as is explained by Coach Carpenter to Pat Kundinger and Abe Walker.

Determination shows in the face of pitcher Doug Bookmeyer as he tries for a strike out. Good swinging allows Chris Hare to hit a curve ball.

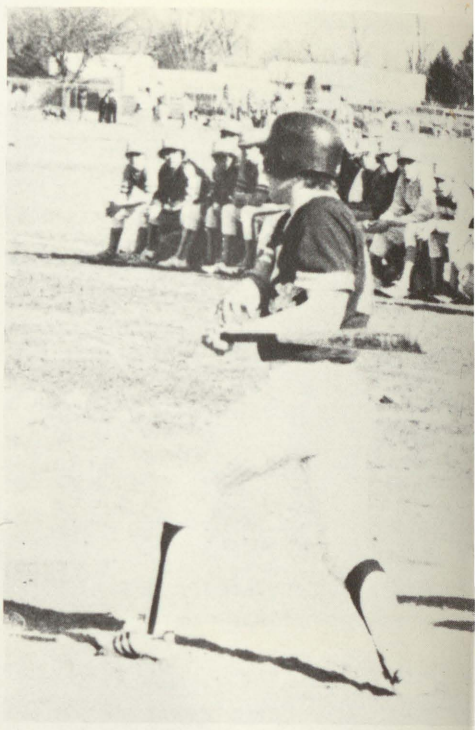

Sluggers Go First Class

Their goal was to be a first class team playing quality baseball and according to Coach Carpenter, the Varsity Baseball team achieved this goal. He said that they also aimed to eliminate personal frustrations, physical errors and the worries about other player's mistakes. He remarked that if these things were out of the way, "winning would take care of itself."

The team finished with a record of 11-7 in the Saginaw Valley League, which was good for third place. He admitted that this year's record was a big improvement over last year's. He felt that the summer program that was held, helped the team.

According to Coach Carpenter, the players had good physical skills. He stated that they had team and self discipline. "The players played up to or beyond his expectations."

J. V. Improves Five Hundred Percent.

Improvement. That was the one main goal achieved by the JV Baseball team. Coach John McCarger stated that though the team had no advantages over teams in past years, he felt the team had improved tremendously.

This improvement was contributed by players such as Mark Bridge on second base, Chris Willet in pitching, and Chris Orozsco on third base. Coach McCarger also stated that the team's overall record had improved greatly.

These numerous wins did not come easily, because some of their toughest opponents were the Midland schools. But all in all the team's efforts paid off.

Determination shows on the face of Tricia Kennedy as she makes a play to first base. Coach Teter discusses the game plan with Jane Feldt.

With one homer under her belt, Frannie Marx demonstrates her batting stance.

Defense Shines

Unlike those of previous years, weather conditions for this year's Varsity softball season were near perfect. However, the sun was not the only thing that shone through for this year's team. Despite the fact that the team was inexperienced, the defensive capabilities that surfaced were like those of a veteran team.

The team dedicated long hours to learning the necessary skills of a winning team, and overcame many obstacles and injuries.

Team cooperation and a balanced offensive unit combined to provide many spectators with an exciting season.

According to Coach Teter, there was a lack of experience but she said that errors were made at crucial moments of the game.

"The team's strongest point proved to be its defense, which improved during the season," said Coach Teter.

J V Softball Team Develops Skills

The JV Girl's Softball team had a successful season according to coach Dupuis. The JV girls began to execute basic softball skills as a result of the team members cooperation. Each individual developed skills in accuracy and speed.

The girls defeated Bay City Western, which was the best game of the season. Coach Dupuis stated, "The girls played very well under pressure and they did not give up." The girls made improvements and the outstanding players of the JV team were Kim Santino, Tricia Foerster, Laurie Kundinger and Jill Averill.

Inexperience Trips Trackers

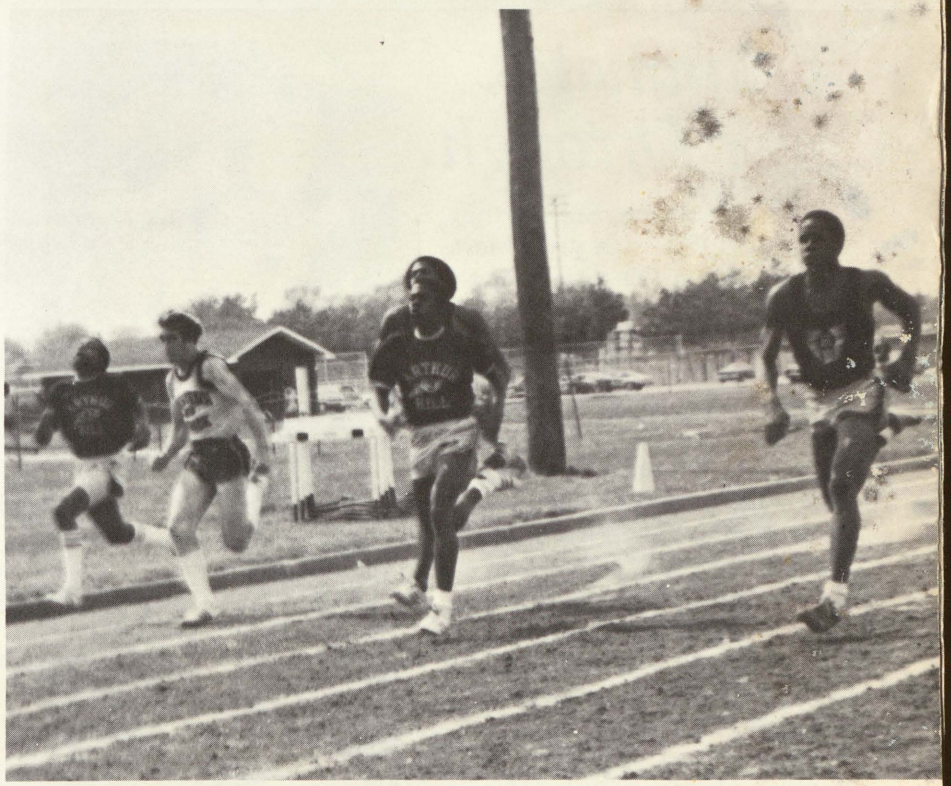

"There are too many people at Arthur Hill that if they can not be number one in a sport then they will not go out for it" stated Coach Bill Johnson.

The biggest problem the Track team had this year was inexperience. It takes a long time to build up your own pace and that was something a lot of the boys did not have. There were a lot of first year people and that was a big drawback on the team. There were only six returning seniors and four returning underclassmen, which made it a very tough season.

Practices began on March 1, 1982 and ended with the last meet on June 4, 1982. They generally practiced about two hours a day ranging from 3:00 to 5:00. No captain was needed because Track is more of an individual sport. The final score of a meet is a team score, but it was received by individual events.

Strong members in the field events were Scott Clark and Bill Johnson in the discus and shotput. Tony Atwater in the discus and Nick Amos in the long jump. Mark Metiva was an outstanding runner and hurdler.

The strain of close competition is shown on Mark Metiva's face.
In the shot put, Scott Clark puts his best foot forward.
One step ahead of everyone else is Kenny Walker.

After a long event, Bridget Smith looks tired. Talking over times in events are Coaches Davis and McShannock.

Teammates Come Through

A season of surprises for the girl's track team this year. Most of the girls on the team thought they had a hard, yet fun season.

Assistant Coach Davis said she had a great first year of coaching and that she looks forward to next season, only she hopes that next season more girls will try out for the track team. Many of the girls were really surprised at how well they worked with each other in times of need which really helped for the fun season. A few outstanding members participated in many of the events at meets, they are Marjorie Moore, Windler Henry, Marilyn Williams and Kathy O'Connell. The team would probably have had a better season if only more girls would have tried out. Too many members of the team had to do extra events which tired the them out.

Netters Swing Into Championship Action

In their effort to win another championship, practice paid off for each of the twelve members of the boy's tennis team. At the season's finish the team had a 7-3 record.

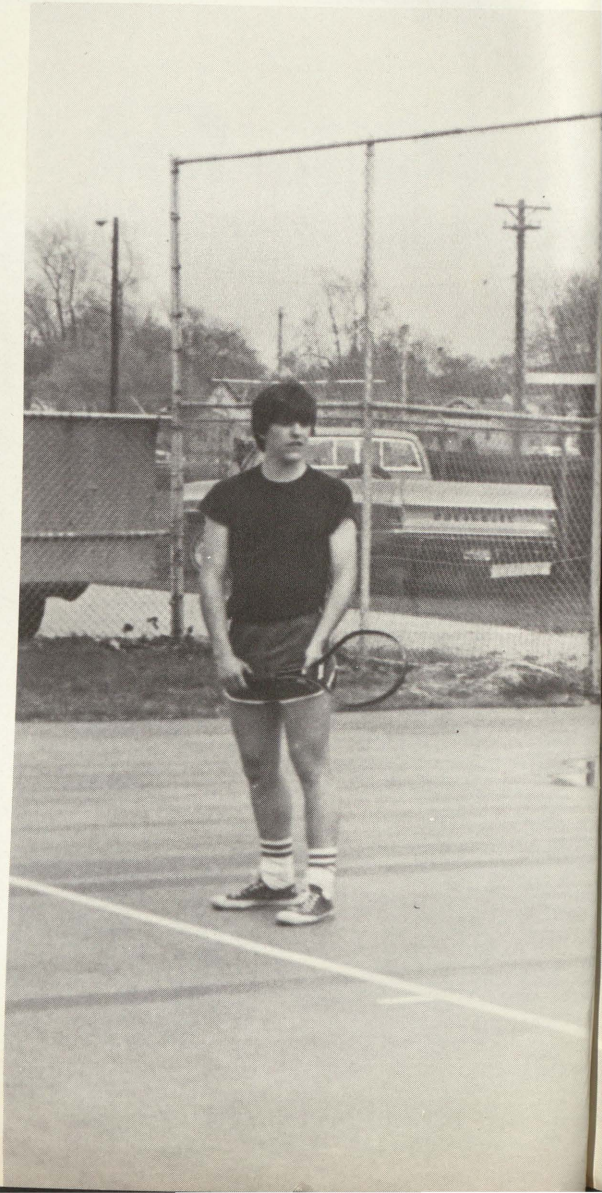

With the help of foreign exchange students, like Serge Takacs, the team was able to execute a winning season. The team's successful season left them third in the regionals and fourth in the valley.

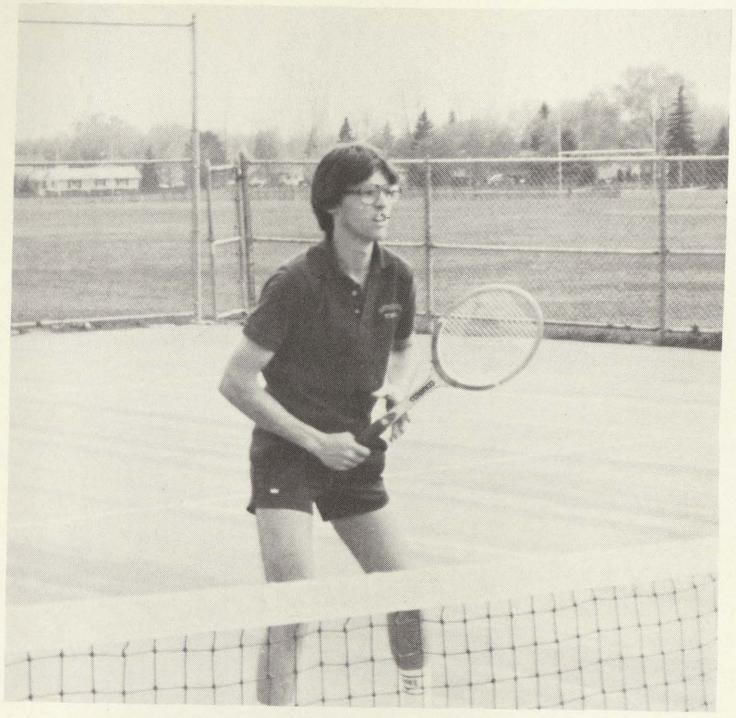

Coach Fordney, after his fourth year coaching the Tennis Team felt that this was an excellent season. "Most of the members," Coach Fordney said, "have been playing for two or more years. Four team members were a new addition to this year's team.

Tennis Team in the Racket

This year's tennis team consisted of ten sophomores, two juniors and three seniors. Sophomores Katie Knowlton and Angie Kallos lead the team in doubles. Last year's returning players helped the team by leading in singles. Seniors Martha and Michelle Luczack and juniors Amy Murry and Angie Tuterra meant business when they played, they played to win.

Coach John Fordney said, "Its a young team and this is a rebuilding year."

The team's goals for this year were to improve and build for next year. Their toughest opponents were Midland Dow and Midland High School.

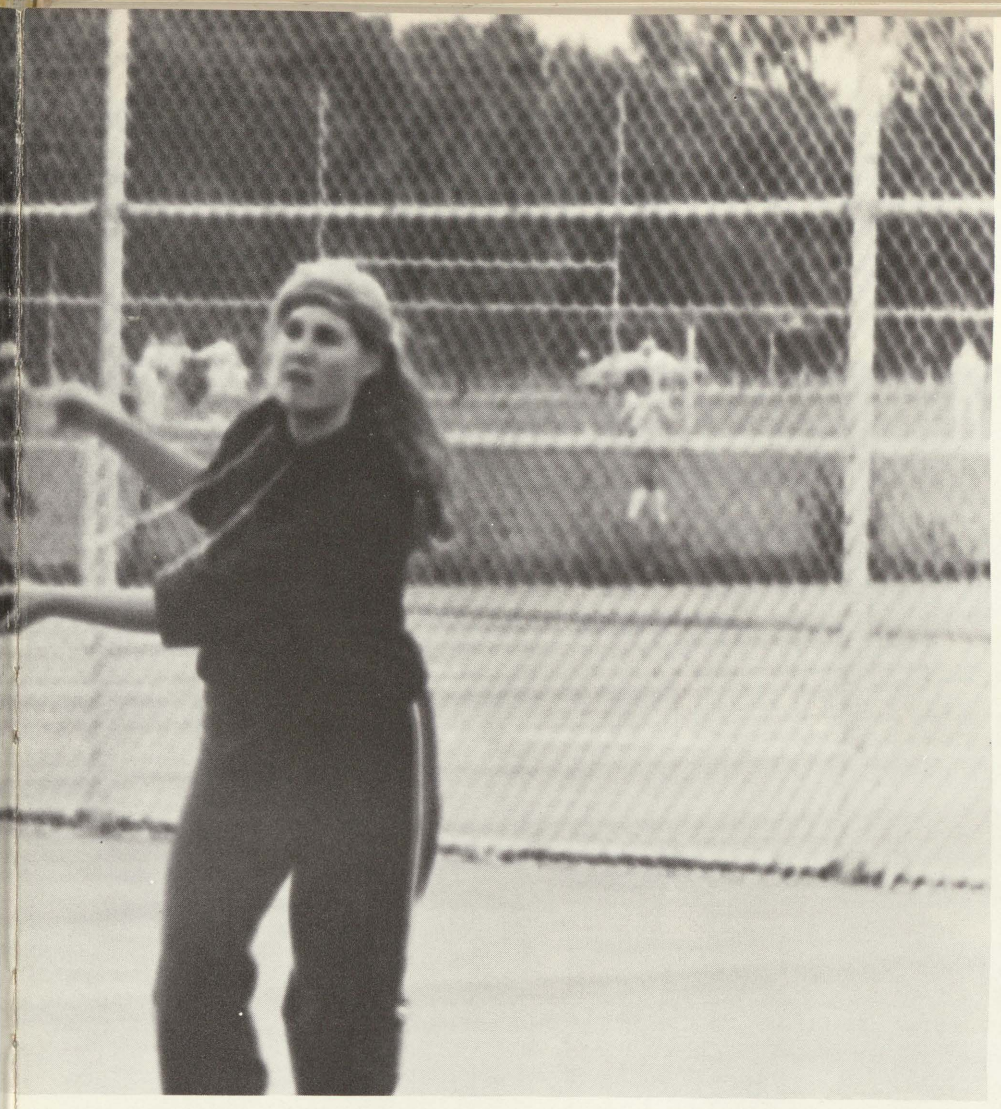

Unruffled by her spectator, Amy Murry gets ready to return her ball.

Warming up for her game is Michelle Luczak.

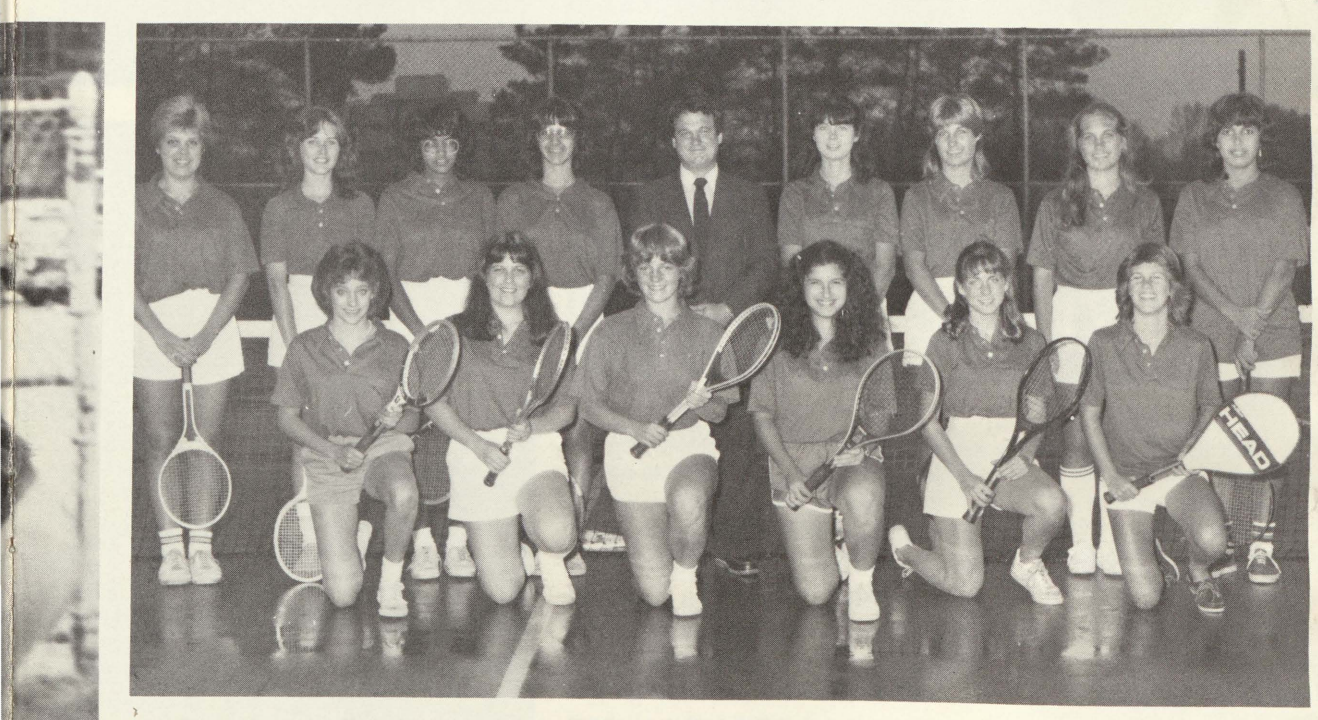

Following through on her forehand swing is Martha Luczak.

Gridders Valley Champs; State Contenders

The Varsity Football team started the season ranked number one in the state of Michigan. Six out of the past eleven years Arthur Hill's football team has been ranked within the top ten teams in the state. Being champions has become a tradition for Arthur Hill. With this thought in mind the proformance and enthusiasm of the varsity football team has greatly been affected. In trying to maintain this winning tradition the team works very hard. The expectations of the student body have also put pressure on the players to do well.

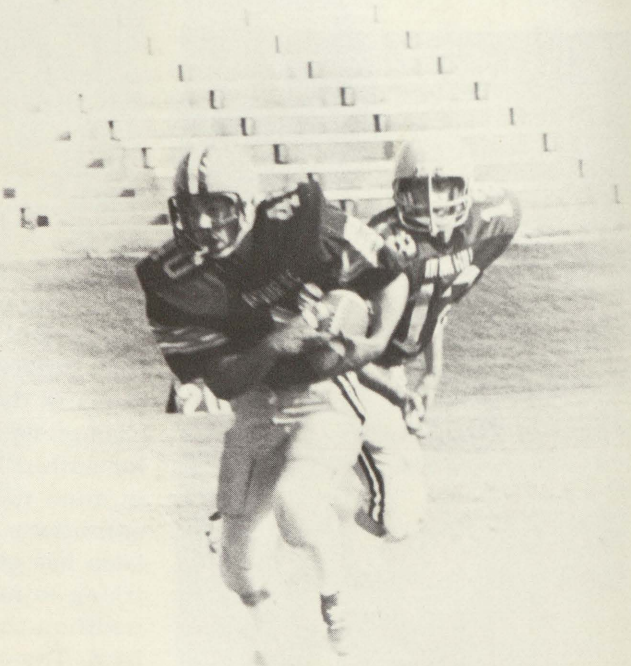

Early in the year the team came a long way and Coach Ihler felt their potential was unlimited. He said the team had an excellent chance to become valley champions. "They worked hard all summer and appear to have a good attitude," said Coach Ihler.

Before each game they emphasize different areas depending on which area is their weakest. They have an opportunity to become Valley Champions, but it will depend on their mental attitude and determination. This year Coach Ihler won his one-hundredth victory in his coaching career.

J.V.'s Working Hard

Monday-Friday, the J.V. Football team was hard at work practicing for the week's game and working on their game plan. Coach Dan McShannock relied on his player's rushing game to work to the teams advantage. He felt if the passing offense paid off and the defense became more aggresive, the team would do very well.

Coach McShannock said the teams strategy is different for each game. We try to get a look at the opposing team before a game and adjust to their strengths.

The forty-four players may suffer from sore muscles and tired bodies after the end of the practice sessions, but the team's hard work and spirit are the positive elements no matter what the outcome of the game.

Varsity Battles Competition

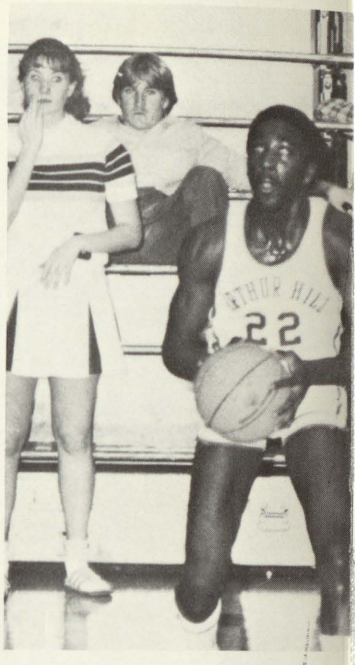

Competition and pressure seemed to be a big drawing card for this year's Varsity basketball team.

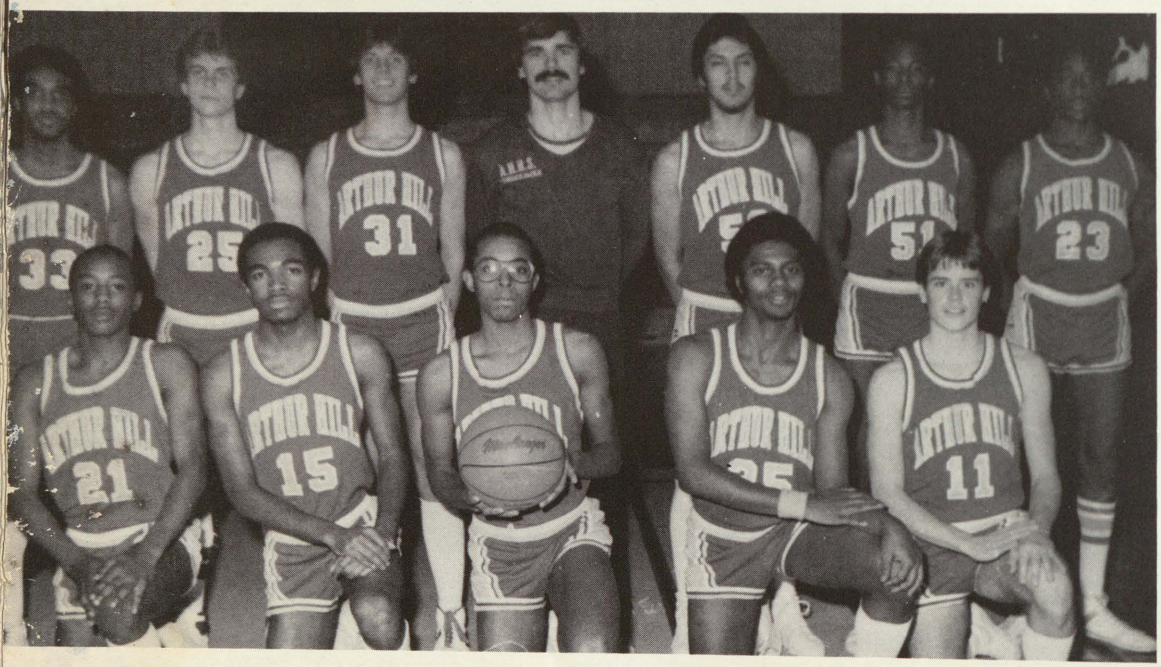

Certainly there was competition. According to Coach Kubiak the '83 schedule was a tough one. Kubiak singles out the game against Midland Dow as a highlight of the season. "We were down by 15 and came back to win 72 to 68!"

Overall the team was 10 and 8 for the season. Kubiak considered it one of the better teams he has coached.

Two of the teams biggest wins were against Bay City Western at 71 to 51 and Grand Blanc at 65 to 51.

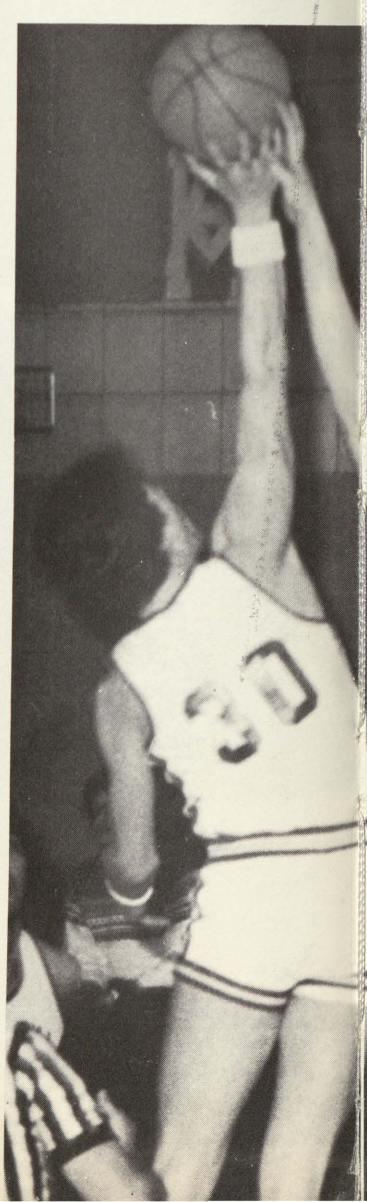

Kubiak is looking forward to the 1984 season and hopes for more height and as much talent as he had on this year's team.

J.V. Shoots to Score

For the first time since 1980 the Junior Varsity Basketball beat Saginaw High. Coach Schumacher said, "This was one of our best games of the season because Saginaw High is our rival."

In 1980 the score was 59 to 53 This year they doubled their six point lead to a twelve point lead with a score of 64 to 52.

Starters Erwin Campbell and Tim Anderson said they won the game because they ran plays effectively and held a tight defense.

According to Coach Schumacher their toughest opponents this year were Flint Northern, Flint Northwestern and Central.

Competition, Togetherness and Perserverence Pull Team Through Season

"Be competitive, play together and improve together as a team as well as individually." Are among Coach Pat Teter's philosophies.

To be on a basketball team or any other team, members must try as a team to do their best.

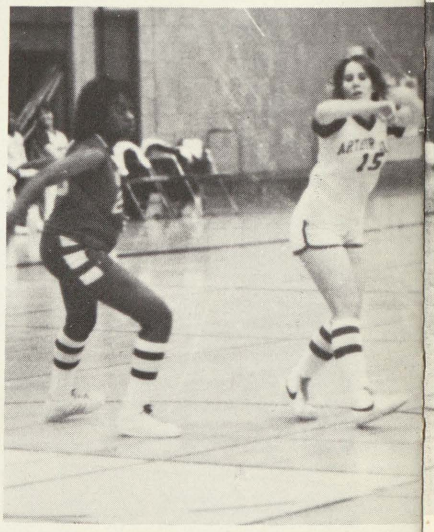

This year's girl's varsity basketball team got off to a slow start, facing two of the top teams in the state, Flint Northern and Midland Dow. After that they played strong team games and showed a lot of improvement.

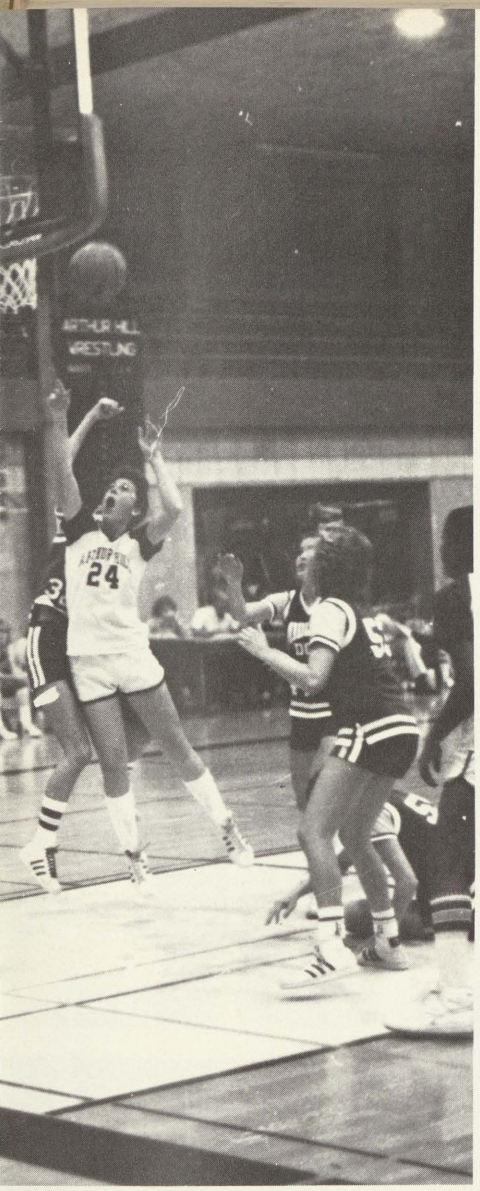

Besides playing the best they could the team had a lot of enthusiasm and spirit.

Coach Teter feels that the team learned from its mistakes, "worked hard and had fun doing it"

Defense is the key.

Defense. That was the key word for '82-'83 girl's JV Basketball team. Defense led the girls through a fighting season against their toughest opponents Flint Northern and Midland Dow.

"Teamwork is very important," Coach Collins said. "In order to develop a strong and competitive team, everyone must work together."

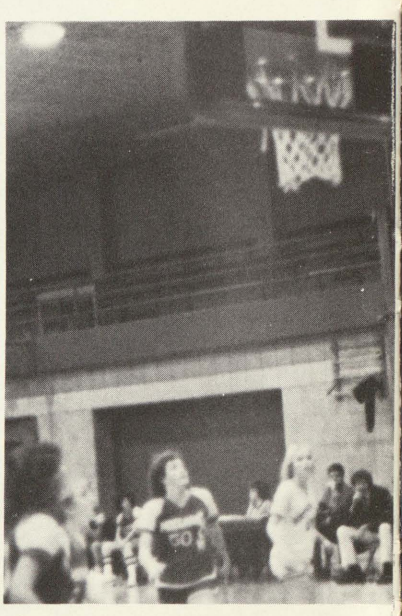

Outstanding players, Michelle Repert guard, and Kris Seeman, center were high scorers. Beth Mensley, forward led the team in rebounds and forward Mara Manary led in all around best player the rest of the team added their own zing to build a strong but young team.

JV is generally a learning team where the girls build and enhance their abilities and offensive and defensive moves. This proved to be true this year. The players all agreed that some fun has been had. Most members said that they go out for basketball because they like sports and like to be competitive. Other team members said it's a way to be involved at Arthur Hill.

Fall tryouts for the 82-83 varsity volleyball team brought 24 hopeful girls. In the tryouts coach Collins was looking for jumping ability, hustling, good attitude, teamwork, serving, spiking and setting skills.

The team was very young because there were only three seniors on the team.

The spikers practiced every school day and sometimes on Sundays. The skills they practiced were mainly passing skills, controlling the opponent's serving and working as a team.

Coach Collins said that one of the team's goals during the season was to get a winning attitude and confidence.

The backbones of the team were Jill Brechtelsbauer, Lisa Fahndrich, Kirsten Sheets, and Alison Munson.

By the end of the season the team reached its goals by gaining confidence, a winning attitude and of course experience. Individually the girls became more self assured.

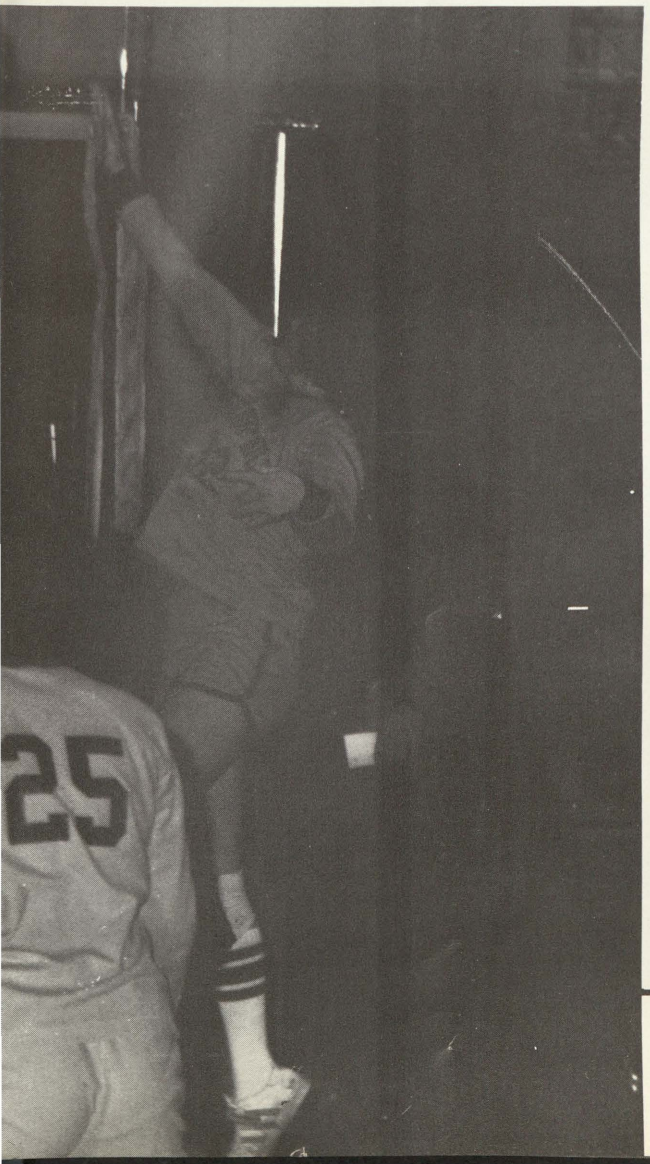

For next year the spikers would like to see more support from the student body at the games.

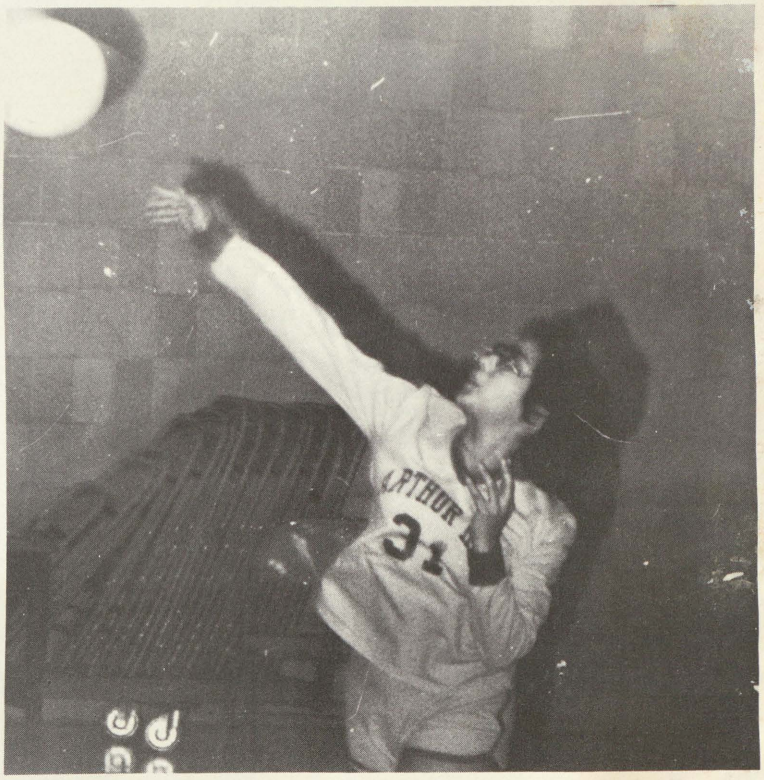

During the time out, Coach Collins gives his players some advice on how to win the game. Bumping the ball over the net is Lisa Fahndrich.

Overhead serving is demonstrated by Michelle Dockham.

Players Gain Experience Throughout J.V. Season

Playing against the Valley's Toughest teams; Coach Pat Teter's Junior Varsity Volleyball girls struggled through the 1982-83 season.

"The team was just starting to come around at season's end." said an optimistic coach Teter.

There may be a good reason for this optimism. The team did have four bright spots in their dismal season.

Getting Into the Swim of Things

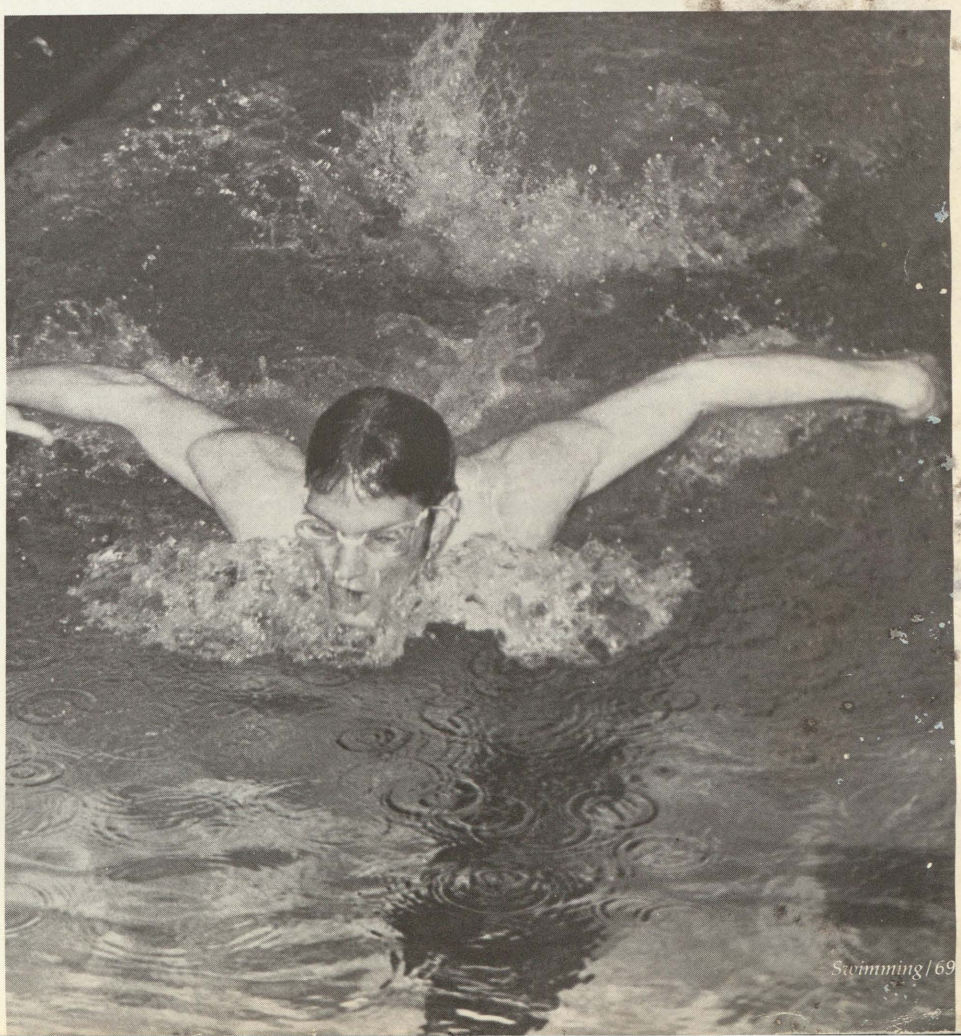

The Athletes on this year's swim team worked hard with encouragement and coaching from Mr. Howenstine. In the face of tough competition the swimmers on Arthur Hill's team stood proud and swam with a competitive attitude.

During practices their will to achieve drove them to work themselves until they could swim no more. This dedication and hard work paid off during every meet they won. The feeling of winning gave purpose to the work that was put into it.

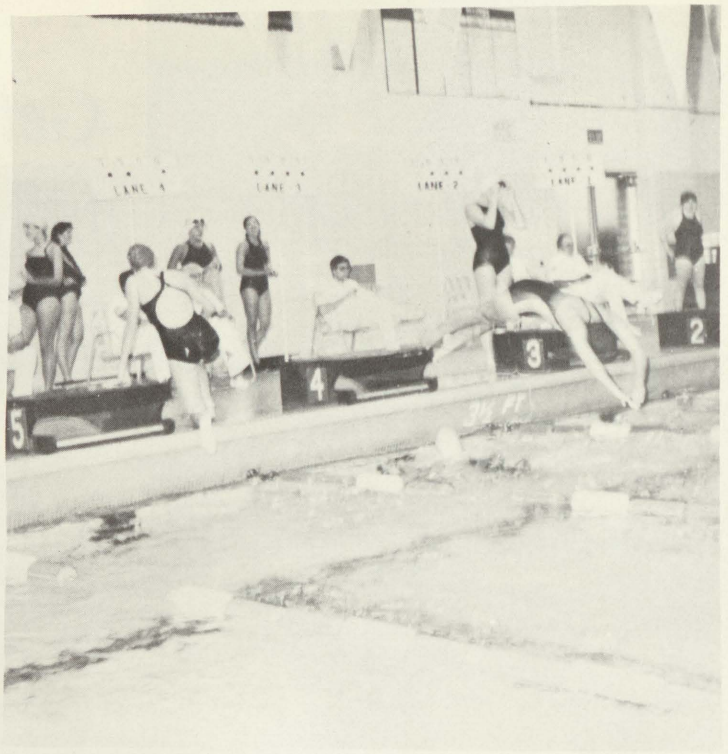

The Arthur Hill Swim Team has been undefeated since 1977. This year's team plans to keep this record with glory.

Off to a good start, Bill Carl dives into action against Flint Central.

Splashing to a successful finish, Matt Rick pulls his own.

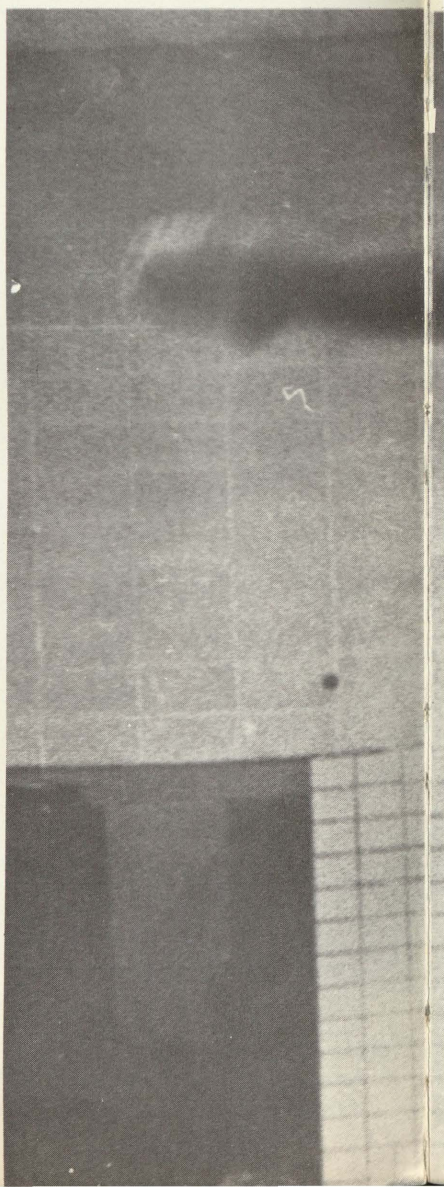

In an attempt to take the lead Phyllis Boli dives in to begin the Final leg of the 100 yd. medley relay.

Swim Team Small but Intense

The Arthur Hill Girl's Swim Team made improvements this season. The size of the team decreased since there aren't enough girls yet who are willing to work to be on the team, according to Coach Lucie Davis.

The strongest events were the breastroke and butterfly while the weakest was the 50 freestyle. Captain of the 1982 team was Kim Ortiz, and the managers were Jeanine Kremin and Angie Tutera. Adelaide Enriquez and Elizabeth Wellman were the most outstanding swimmers for the entire season.

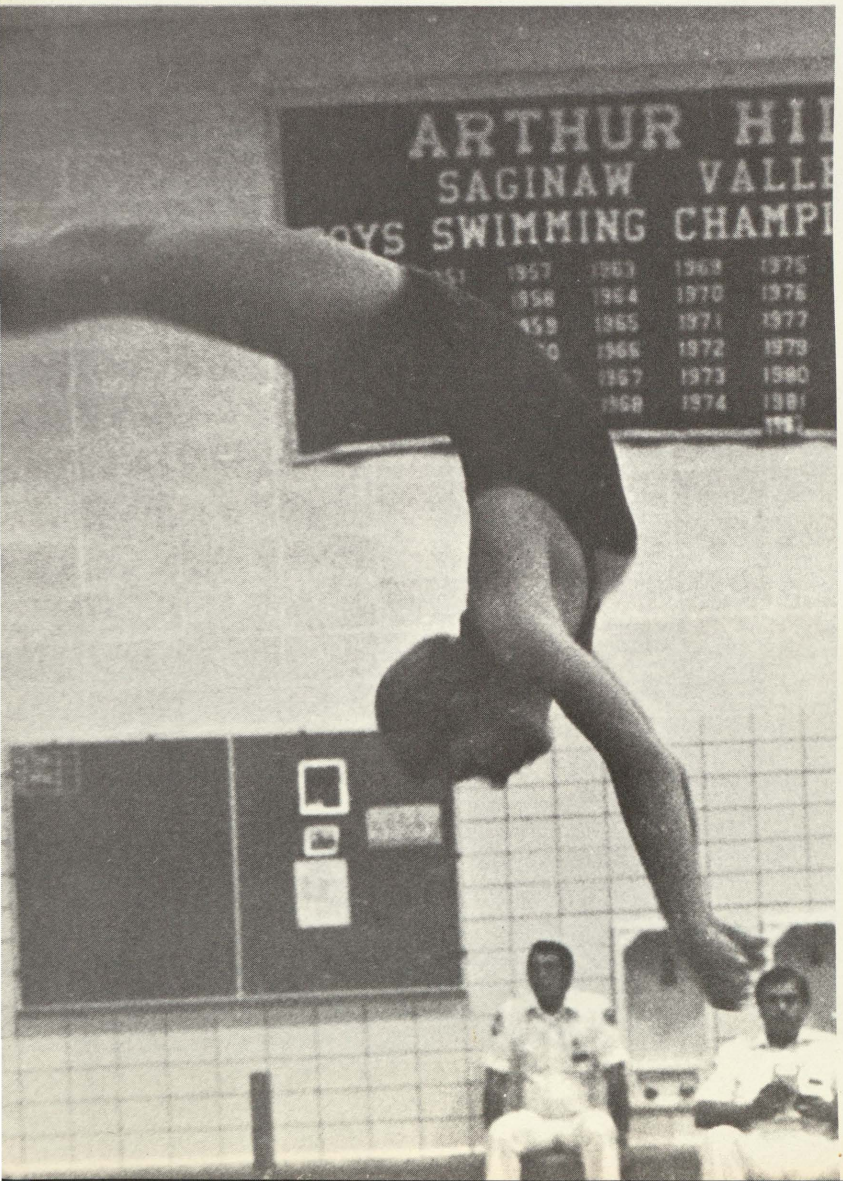

The Girl's Swim Team added a new diving coach this year, Ms. Nancy Burdick. She was a physical education teacher in Clio before coming to Arthur Hill. The divers were Elizabeth Wellman and Rose Nickodemus. The girls practiced every day to have a successful season.

Against Midland Dow is Holly Collison battling for first place.

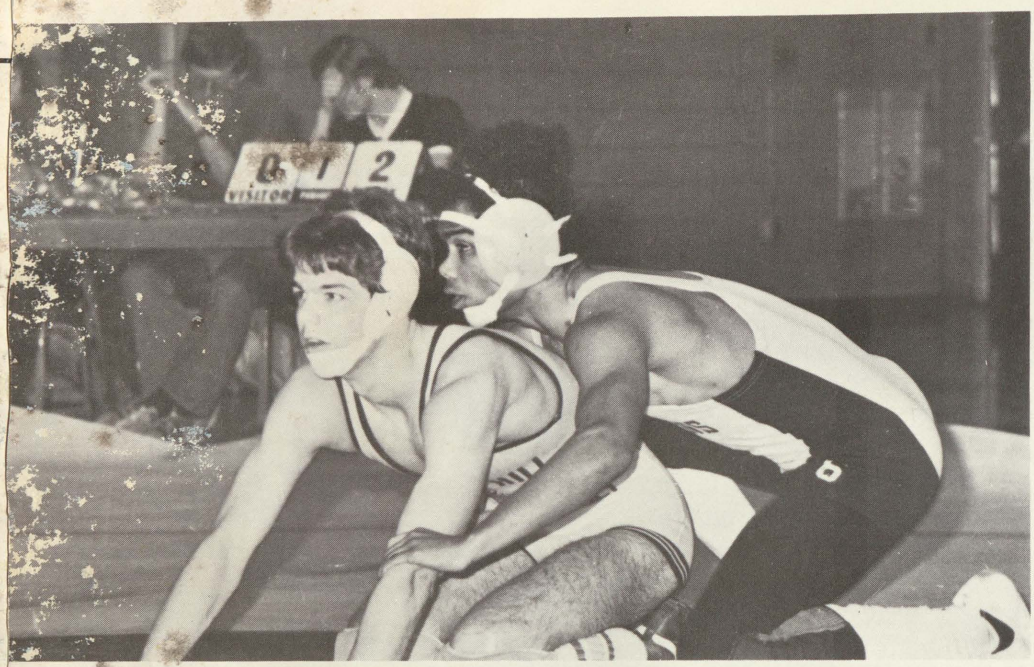

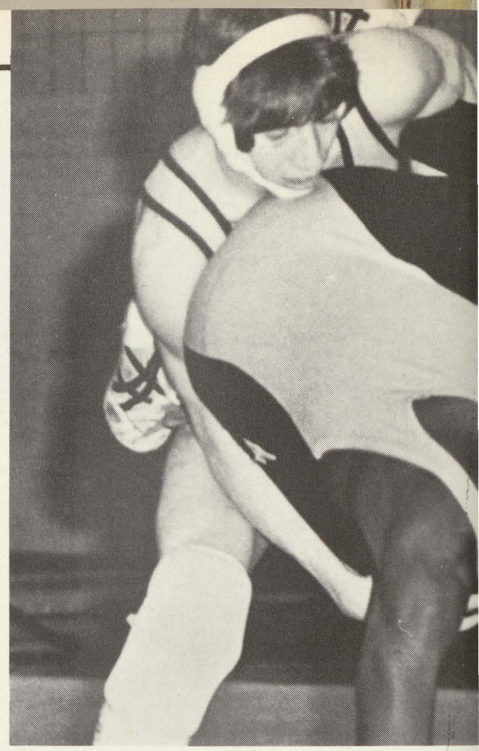

Arthur Hill's Elizabeth Wellman scores a 4½ for her perfectly formed dive.

At the finish of a competitive relay Arthur Hill becomes victorious by a large margin.

Matmen Have A Pinning Season

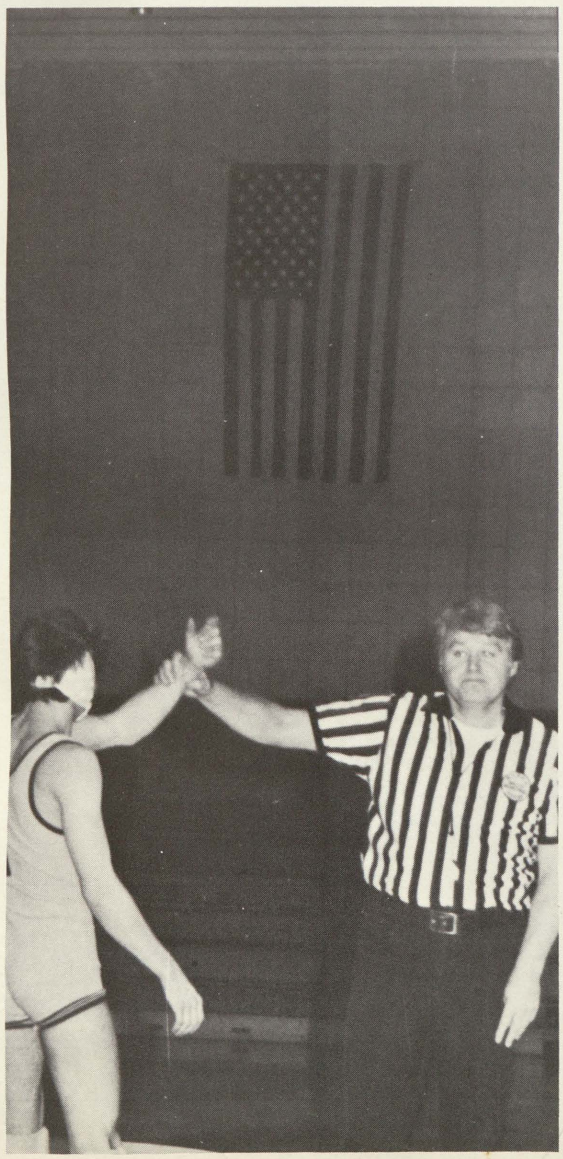

Fine showings by Seniors Mike Young and Brian McKinney highlighting a somewhat disappointing second year for Coach Becher and the Arthur Hill Wrestling Team.

Young took third in both the Saginaw High and Ithica Invitationals and fifth at Oscoda. Brian McKinney finished third in the Saginaw Invitational before being injured later in the year.

Another bright spot in the 1982-83 season was the improvement of sophomore wrestlers Dave Mason, Paul Feuerstein, and Dave Bohl.

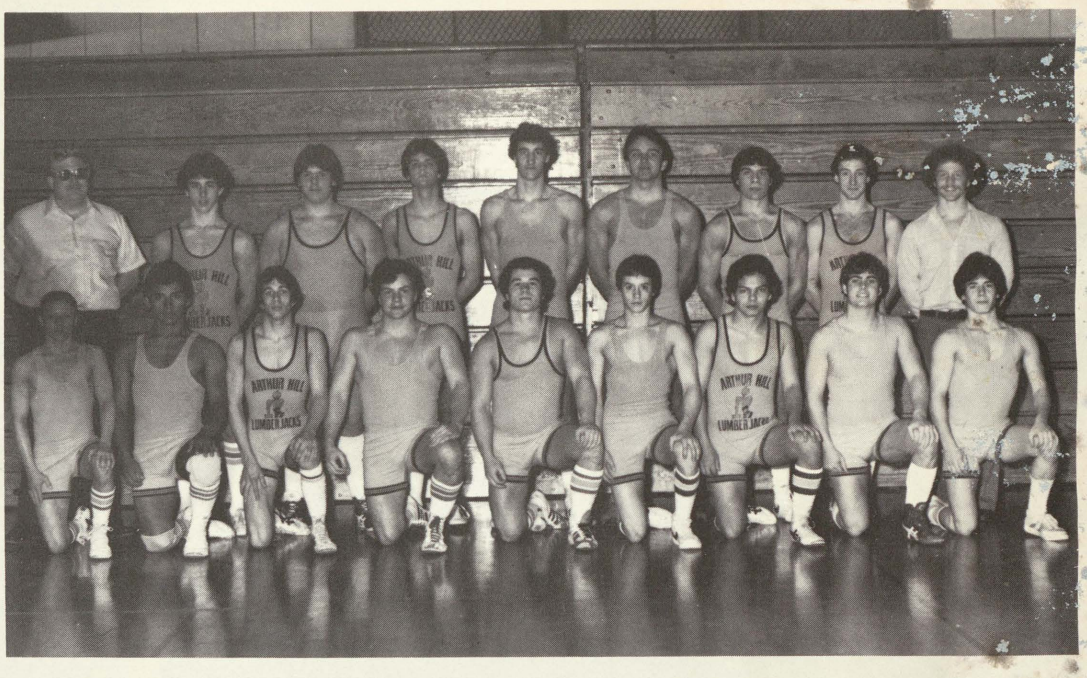

Along with these sophomores are three juniors looking forward to their senior year, Dave Johnson, Pat Patterson and Tony Latimore.

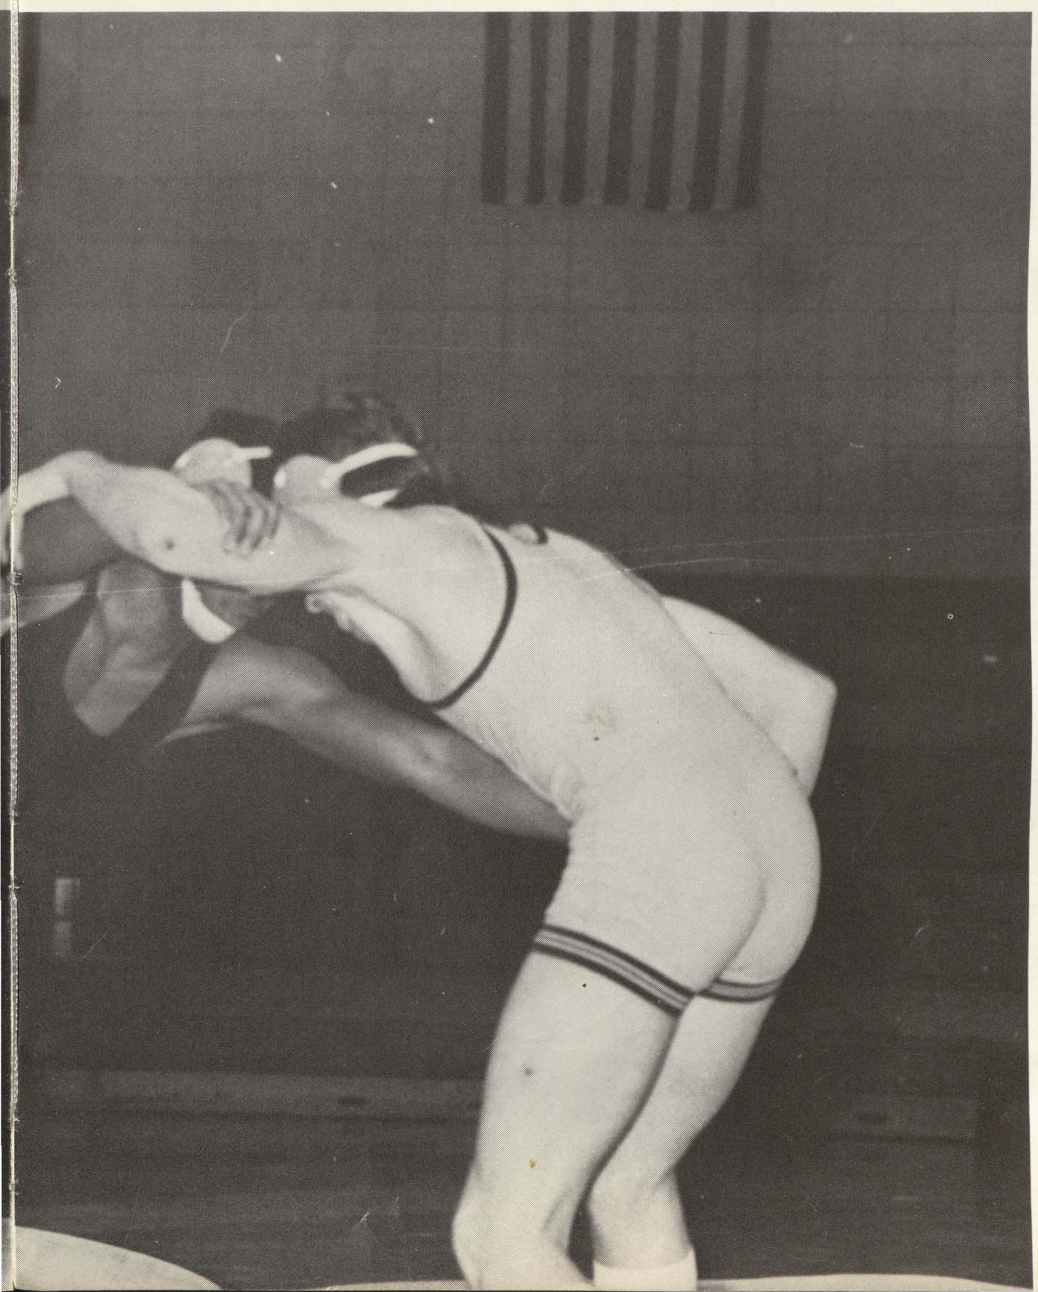

With these six returning, Coach Becher believes the Wrestling Team will improve next season.

Eyes fixed in concentration Rick Tunney awaits the referees signal to start the rouna. Throwing his opponant to the mat, Mike Young goes for a pin.

Arthur Hill's star wrestler Mike Young is announced the winner of yet another match.

Skating, Shooting and Checking

Going into the '82-'83 hockey season, the Arthur Hill team had great expectations.

Under the new head coach Dennis McLean, the team practiced very hard and at any time, sometimes at 5:00 am. The main skills the coach wanted to teach, were skating, shooting and checking.

On this year's team, there were only five seniors, but they lead the team with expertise. Despite the fact that the team did not have very large players, nobody was afraid of playing against tough teams.

During this season many players suffered injuries like cuts requiring stitches, muscle damage etc.

The team's strong center forwards John Nickodemus and Brad Batterson lead the scoring list, but their successful scoring was mainly a result of good team work.

The good goal keepers Frank Murray and Scott Walters were the backbones of the team. They influenced the results of Arthur Hill's games mostly in a positive way, but sometimes also they lost their concentration.

Hard checking is a big part of Hockey. Don Schram meets the coach's expectation in this game.

Good puck control is demonstrated by Hannu Krook as he skates down the ice escaping his opponent.

Soccer Club Kicks Off

The 82-83 soccer season was different compared with last season. Arthur Hill had two teams this year. The "older" team played in the Varsity League and the "younger" in the J.V. League.

The Soccer Club had to raise all the money it needed by selling litter baskets. Fund raising was successful and the club was able to pay all of its own expensives. The Soccer Club did not get any money from the School Board because soccer is not a varsity sport.

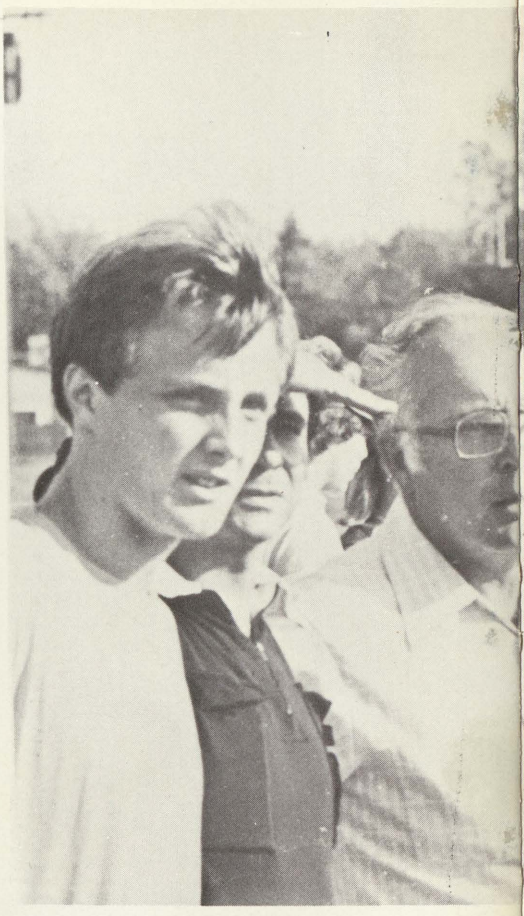

Looking at the results, this season was not very successful. The "older" team this year was ranked in about the middle of the Varsity League, while the "younger" team was unlucky and did not fare as well.

Coach Laatsch feels that the J.V. Team is the ideal place to get the kind of experience that will make the Arthur Hill team one of the best in the area.

Coach Laatsch worked very hard to get more people involved and interested in soccer.

Coach Petzko also had good support from Pat Patterson, Ed Blue, Rick Frank, Rick Tunney, Dave Weiner, and Mike Marrero.

Golf Team Looks Ahead to Another Year.

Mr. Dick Thomas completed his third year as Varsity Golf Coach and was very optimistic about the future of the team.

Though the team finished only sixth in the valley, the team showed a lot of promise and are sure to improve with another year's experience, and have a good chance at the Valley title next fall.

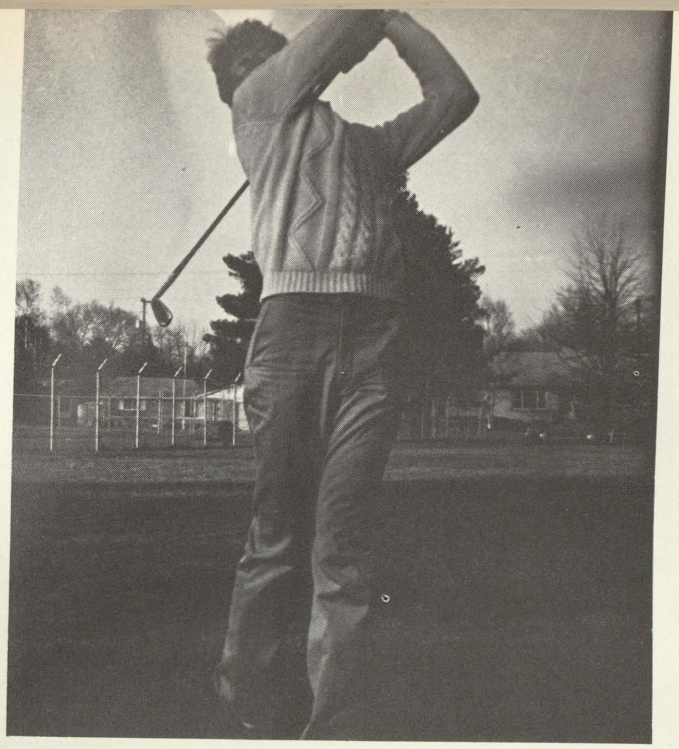

The reason the team should improve is partially due to the many players returning from this year's team.

Next fall's team will be led by Mike Kaster, Jim Yuill, and Rick Petzko, all three were Juniors this past year.

With this group, and the leadership of Mr. Thomas, the Arthur Hill Golf Team may add a Valley Championship to the trophy case in 1983-84.

Backstage

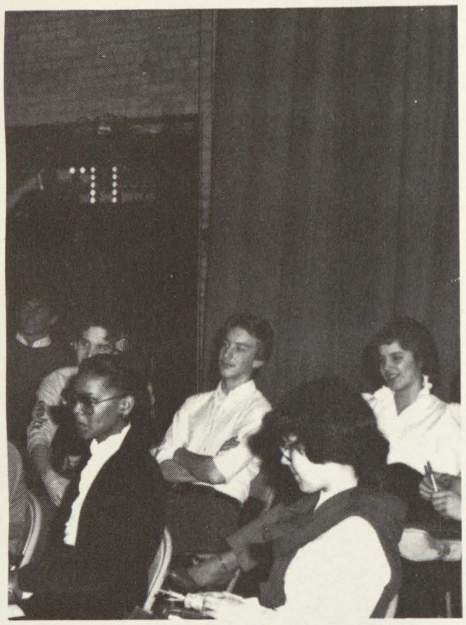

As enrollment increased at Arthur Hill, involvement in student activities did too; and spare time for most students became a synonym for 'shared time'. These free style performances required no rehersal. Students became spirited spectators, supportive club members, helpful classmates and affectionate friends sharing time with each other and simultaneously making memories of their time at Arthur Hill pleasant ones.

Fun With Jim and Dave

President Jim Collison, Vice President Dave Newman, Mary Ford, and Char Rivette, and the rest of the Student Council have been very busy this year. Organizing Homecoming and Sophomore Student Council elections, the council succeeded in making a great success.

With help from Mr. Knight, new thoughts for fund raisers were generated all of the time. Dances this year had much participation by students. With the new Ball Room Globe, and Good Rock & Roll students enjoyed themselves. Big money was made at Arthur Hill's booth at the Milwaukee Festival along with the booth at another fund raiser, the Chicken Barbeque. The council also raffled off the Varsity Football Team's game ball at one of the last games.

Last summer Jim Collison, Char Rivette, and Mary Ford attended a leadership camp so they would be better able to serve our school. At camp they had fun while learning, and receiving new ideas for fund raisers.

They've Got the Beat

Under the direction of Mr. Jensen were four bands: Concert, Honors, Jazz, and Marching.

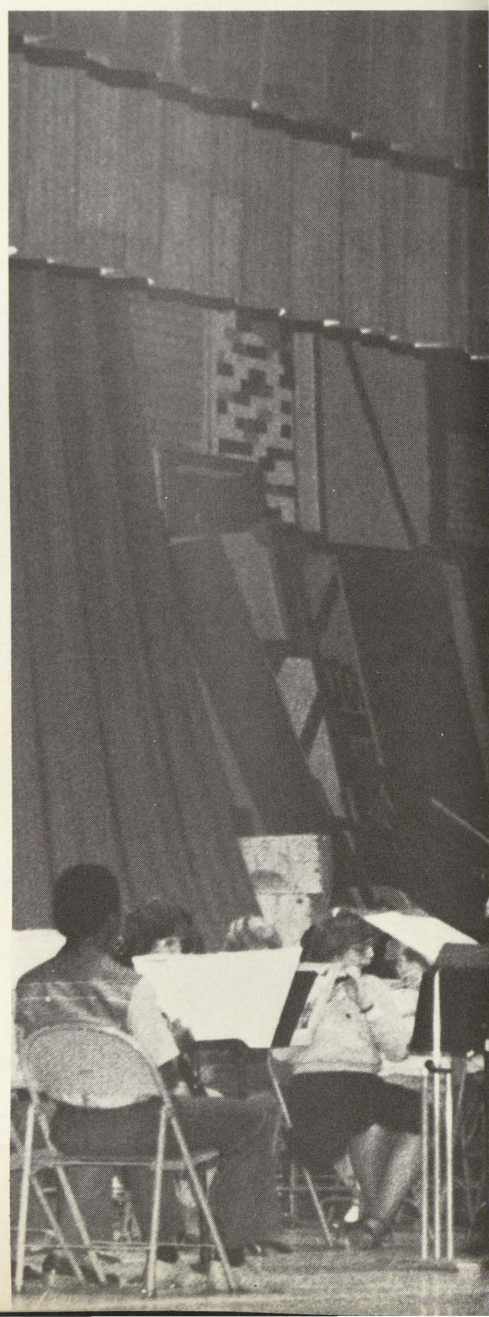

The Concert band, a lower ranking band, consisted of 15 to 20 members and was noted for the entertainment at several school activities. The various concerts, which they performed in represent the quality of Arthur Hill students. "Concert work encourages perfection and the satisfaction of perfecting a performance", Mr. Jensen said.

Marching band, whose members also form Honors band, was set up for three reasons: To help support the Football team's efforts, to provide entertainment during half time, and to represent Arthur Hill in various parades.

Honors band has in its group about 45 members who compete with other schools in our district. The band performs all kinds of music for various activities.

Jazz band which contains 20 harmonious members specialized in the entertainment of other schools throughout our school district.

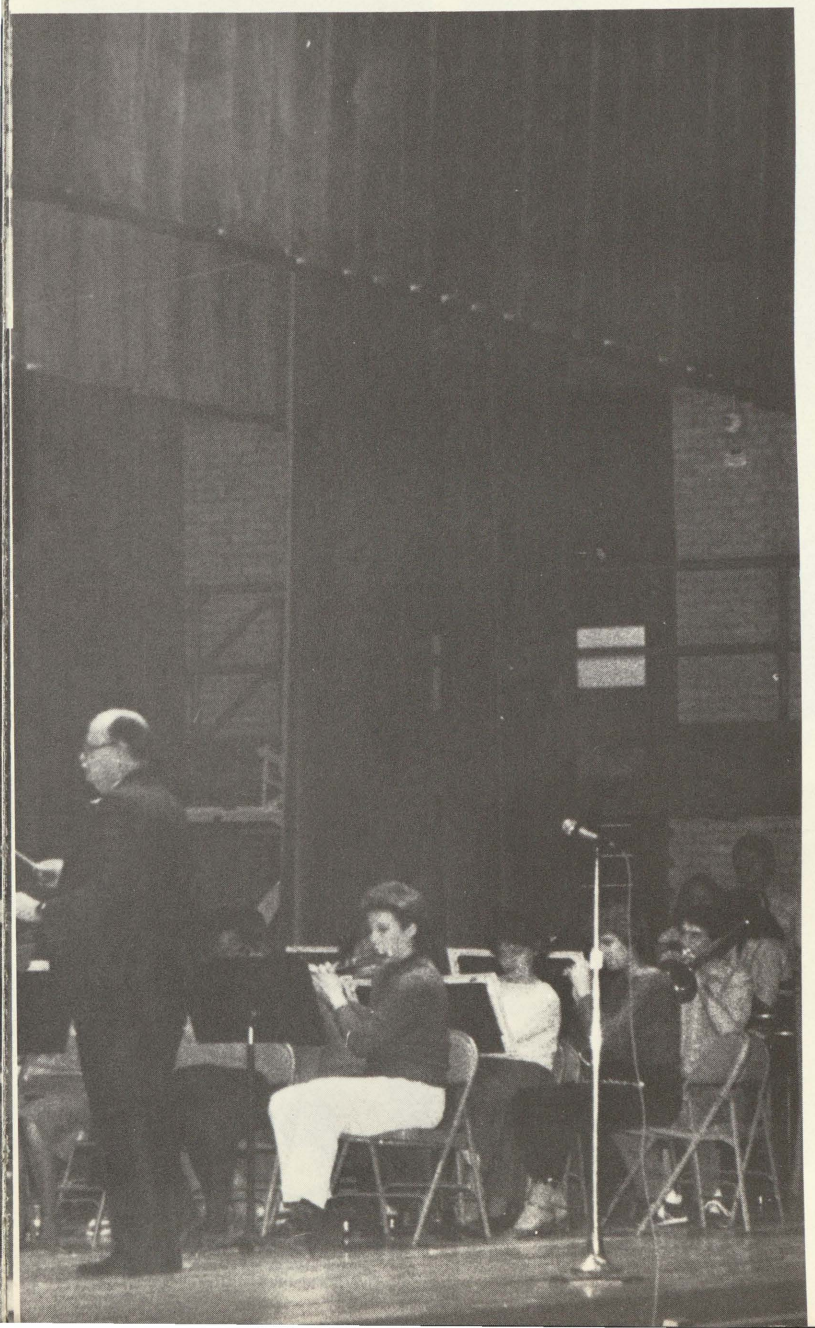

Working hard, members of the Band show their Christmas spirit by playing their best for the audience.

Small But Good

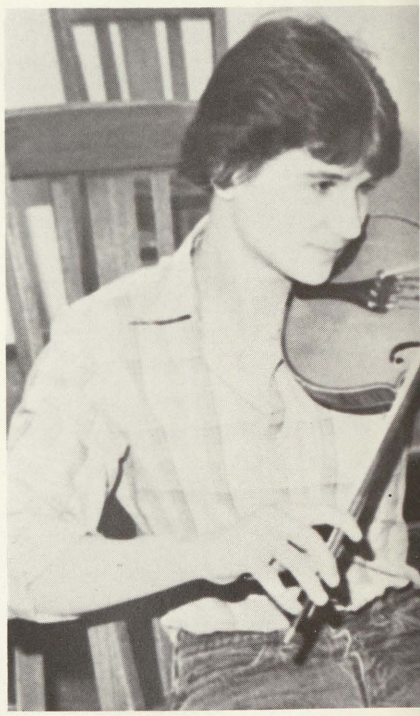

Orchestra class taught by Mr. Austin fifth hour consists of only seven students. Even though the class is small, they are dedicated to their work.

"They can really play, they sound good" said Mr. Austin. "If only the orchestra were larger. We're hoping that next year the class size will at least double or even triple."

Mr. Austin also teaches orchestra at North, the Center for the Arts, Handley, Fuebringe, John Moore, and Herig, besides teaching the orchestra at Arthur Hill.

The main instruments (strings) in orchestra are the violins.

Orchestra class, an elective you can take any year of your high school stay isn't a difficult class. "Basically," said Jenny Ennis, "you just gotta know how to play."

4-H Club: Learning by Doing

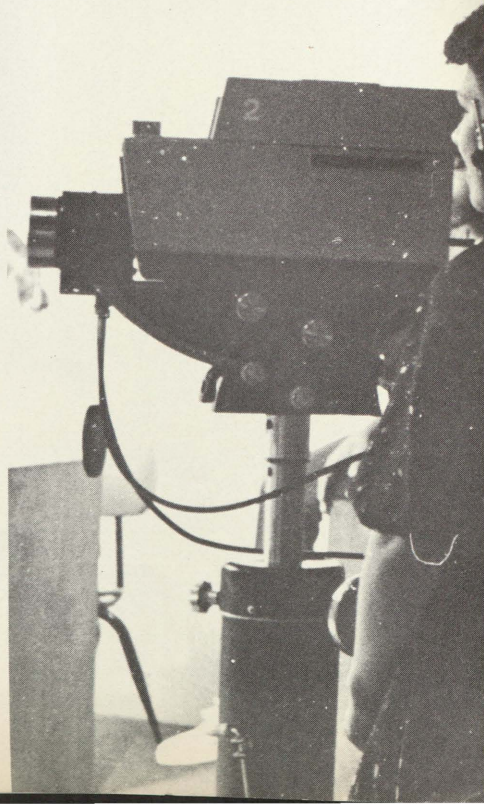

The 4H Club is a club for learning to do things like making bread and quilts at no cost. The 4H Club which stands for Head, Heart, Hands, and Health, basically means a better life. This year the club entered their exhibits in the Arts and Crafts work shop, one member, Helen Kang, won third place. They also held a Bazaar at Christmas time to help raise money for different activities, one was a field trip to MSU. Their advisor, Mrs. Carol Schluckebier, has been working with the 4H Club for two years.

They meet once a month in the balcony of the library. Some kids meet every day. The Club also learned new ideas for projects by having someone come in from the 4H Center.

Skills to Live by

A student could learn a trade in a year and have a career for a lifetime by participating in the Averial Career Opportunity Center, better known as the C.O.C.

The C.O.C. which was built in 1971, has 29 classes for students to choose from. Hillites dominate the center. One-third of all students that are enrolled at the C.O.C. are from Arthur Hill.

The classes range from auto body to child care and from office occupations to media broadcasting.

It takes a lot of hard work and patience at the C.O.C. but as one person put it "If you've got the enthusiasm needed you'll make it."

Mr. Parr, the principle at the center, is hopeful that in the future a course in robotics will be added to the curriculum.

Within the four sessions the C.O.C. operates, many schools participate. Among these schools are, Arthur Hill, Eisenhower, MacArthur, St. Stephens, and Saginaw High.

Making Headlines Meeting Deadlines

Working on the Arthur Hill newspaper proved to be a very difficult, but worthwhile experience.

The staff's time and effort produced an excellent newspaper covering many events that happened during the year at Arthur Hill High School.

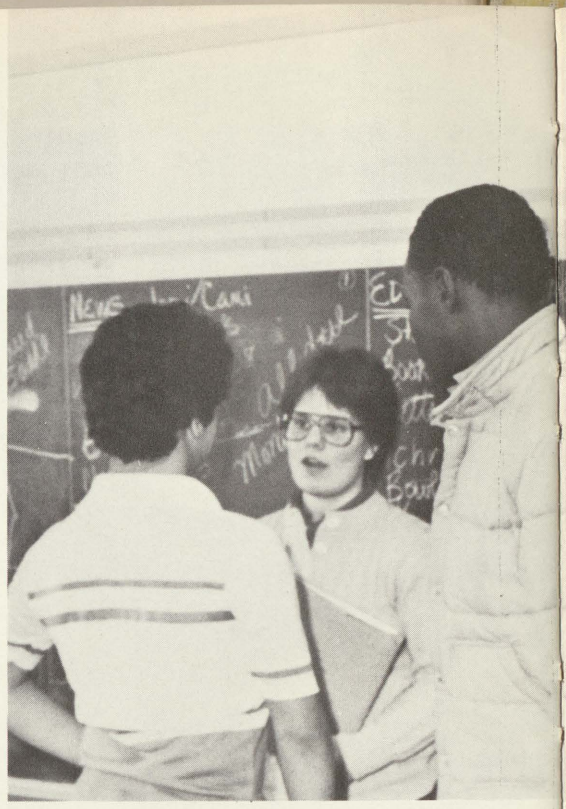

Many things were involved in making a good newspaper: interviewing, writing the story, typesetting, and paste-ups, kept the staff very busy.

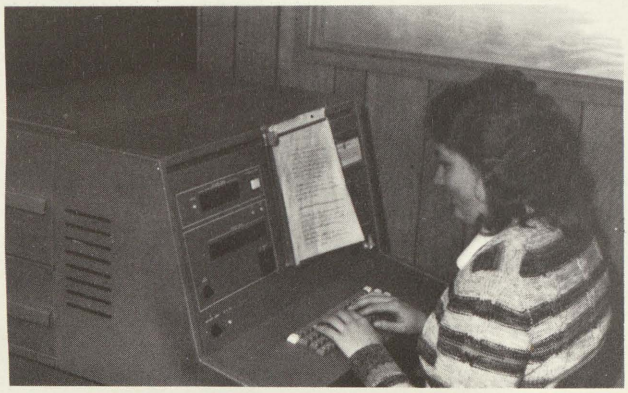

Besides trying to meet deadlines for the newspaper the staff had to meet deadlines for the 1983-1984 'Man a Month' Calendar.

This calendar featured four guys from each class that were not only good looking but also somewhat popular.

The calendar proved to be a financial success.

According to Terri Smith the editor in chief "good potential plus a hard-working staff is what made the newspaper a success."

Keeping staff reporters Tony Levario and Everett Rawls on deadline is nearly a full time job for Editor Ann Brown.

Typesetting among many other important tasks keeps Editor in Chief, Terri Smith, busy.

Taking time out from their busy schedule the Arthur Hill newspaper editors pose for the camera: Ann Brown, Jodi Kirkpatrick, Tracy Lancour, Karen Sommerfeld, Cami Mayotte, and Terri Smith.

Staff Strives for Deadline

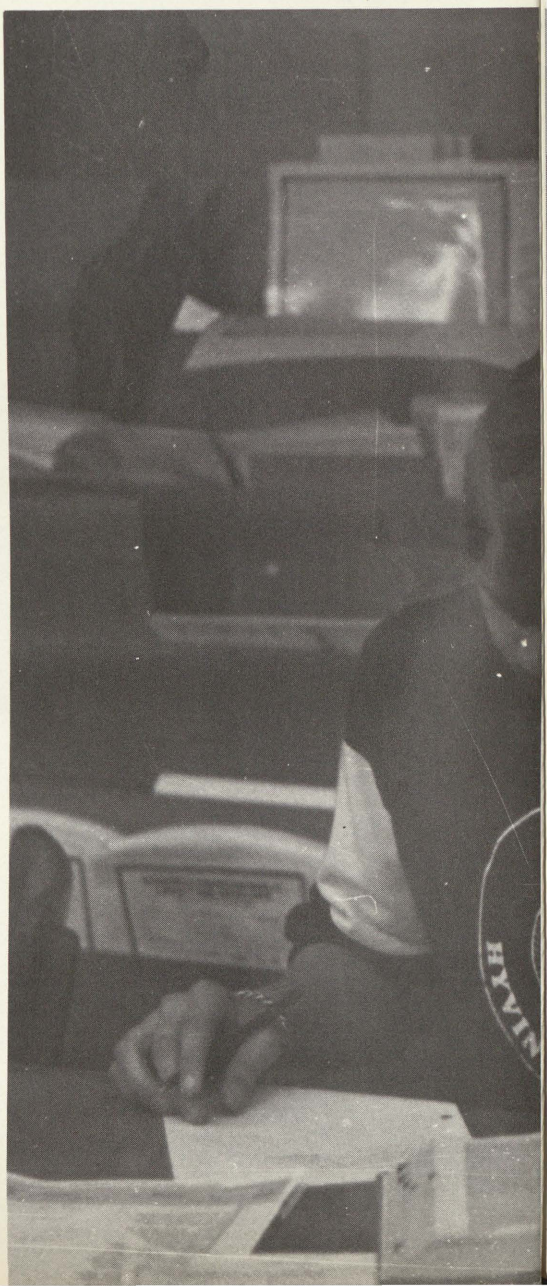

The Arthur Hill yearbook was put together by a class that is two semesters long. The teacher Ms. Clemens also taught advanced composition and newspaper, besides the yearbook class.

Asked to comment on the progress of the yearbook, Ms. Clemens stated "We're a tad bit slow but we'll meet our deadline."

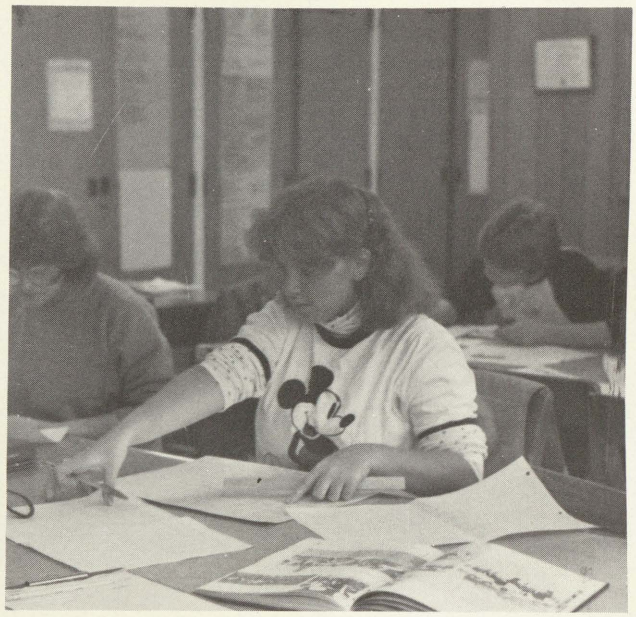

The yearbook 'The Legenda' sold for a mere $15. Quite a few of the students did not take the opportunity to purchase a book full of their high school memories. Those students were left empty handed as the books were passed out at the end of the year.

The 1982-83 yearbook staff was determined to get the book delivered on time. Many students worked through their lunch periods or even spent long hours after school putting together the pages of this yearbook.

The design for the cover of this year's yearbook was chosen by the 1st Annual Legenda Cover Contest judges. The winner was senior Hillite Earl Cronkright. Earl received a free yearbook for his outstanding entree.

Latinos in Action

This year the Latino Action Club was very active and more involved in many activities. They had intramural games, a Thanksgiving Dance, Sunday Breakfast, car washes, and cake sales.

This year, the members of the club were more persistent in doing more for the club compared to past years, according to the club advisor, Tony Olvera.

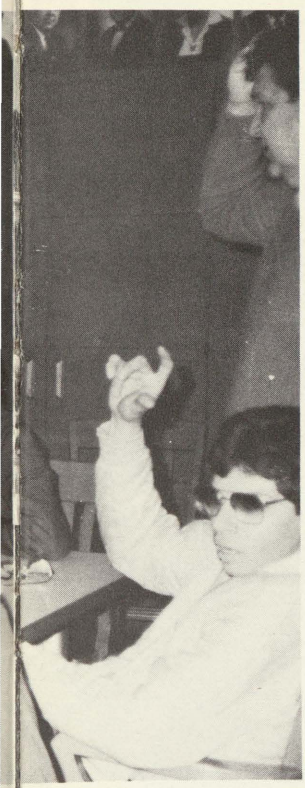

The Latino Action Club was established for self-identity. It was formed as more Latino students began attending Arthur Hill and didn't participate in any school related activities. Anyone can join as long as they are willing to work for cultural awareness.

There are 49 members in the club and they have kept the club strong and active.

This year's elected officers were: President, Jose M. Quiroz; Vice-President, James Hernandez; Secretary, Kim Ortiz; Treasurer, Mary Sanchez; Sergeant-At-Arms, Robert Gomez; and Assistant to advisor, Manual Oviedo.

Students Study Black History

Mrs. Morris has been in charge of the Black Studies Club since it began. She realized that nobody was learning about it. Nobody approved of the title Black Studies Club because they thought only black students could join but this is not so, anyone can join.

They don't just study about black history but they go places to learn and experience it. Mrs. Morris takes the group to different places to see black plays, Art Museums, African Music and dancers.

The Club observes Black History month and they have a dinner for present important black people. One year their title was 'Women Who Rate a Ten.' They had several women from the Saginaw Area who are important. One woman was Pat Harvey from the news at 6:00.

Choir Sings to the World

This year the Mixed Choir has been working extra hard while having fun. Mrs. Dyer drills her many talented students with breathing exercises and sound quality. The Mixed Choir performs about three or four times during the year.

Performing along side the Mixed Choir is the Girls Glee Choir. This choir performs at the same concerts as the Mixed Choir. They work just as hard and enjoy working and singing.

This year's Swing Choir has been out singing and dancing for everyone in the city it seems. "Swing Choir is the most exciting part of my day and I enjoy making others smile," said one of its members, Wendy Vanston. They were busy going to many different places during school hours and also after school.

Being in a choir is fun if one enjoys singing but it is hard work. Everyone in the choir has to work hard and do his or her share. If one person slacks off and lets his partner do all the work, the choir will not be as good as it could be. Working together, helping each other, and getting along while having fun is what a choir is all about.

Foreign Students Experience a New Culture

With their European soccer-experience, Hannu Krook (Finland), Tony Smith (England), and Tim Schulz (Germany) were great support for the soccer-team.

This year Arthur Hill hosted eight exchange students. They came from all over the world through the Youth for Understanding exchange program.

Tony Smith from England was only 5 feet tall, but he was able to play super soccer. Everybody seemed to enjoy his company.

Marcia Gama from Brazil played on the girl's tennis team. She also demonstrated the samba to other exchange students.

Pierre Sommer, the Dane, was the only performing artist this year. He participated in a lot of different cultural activities.

Hannu Krook from Finland was one of the better players on Arthur Hill's hockey team. He also played soccer. Everybody liked his sense of humor.

Tim Schulz from West Germany played soccer, tennis, and was the statistician for the hockey team. He also joined the Pep Club. He had one problem he never combed his hair!

Valeria 'Patty' Lopez came from Equador. She did pretty well after her language problems disappeared.

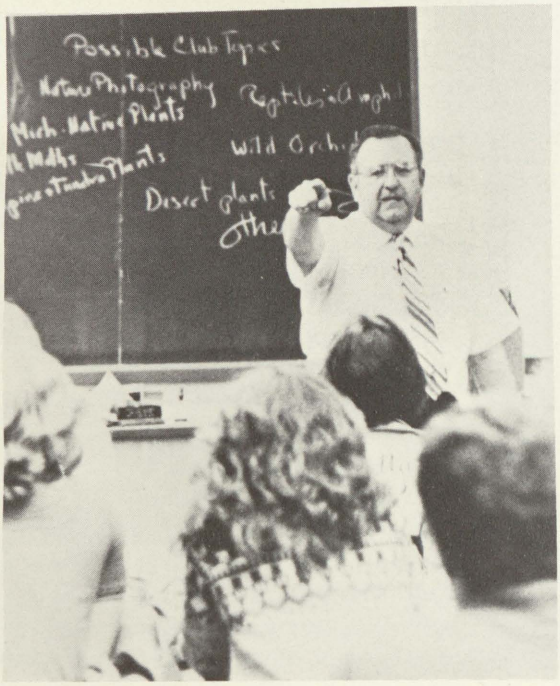

Samuel Ang came from the Philippines. He played soccer in the spring. When the first snow fell it was one of Sam's greatest experiences.

The only private exchange student was Martina Mejia. She came later than the others, but by the end of the year her language problems had disappeared.

The only out going exchange student from Arthur Hill, Scott Peteren went to Japan for one year.

Biology Club: A School Tradition

For thirty years Mr. Case has been with the Biology Club at Arthur Hill. Throughout that time many students have found it to be an interesting activity.

Being one of the school's longest enduring organizations, something must be done to keep the interest of the students.

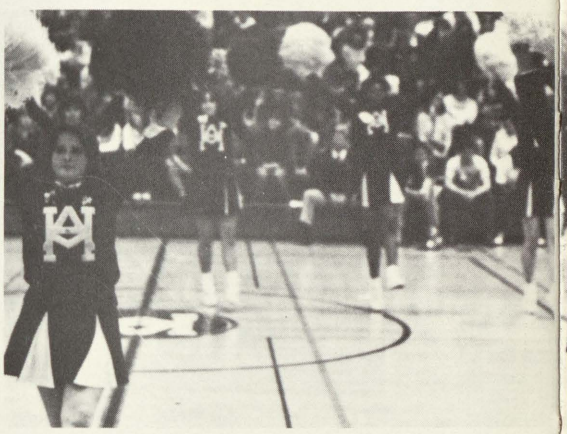

Field Trips are one reason the club continues to attract students at Arthur Hill, and one of the reasons the club should remain a successful organization for many years to come.

Spirit With a Smile

The Pom Pon Girls had two squads with 16 girls on the Varsity and 14 girls on the Junior Varsity. New routines were made up yearly and performed at boy's basketball games.

Mrs. Jamison has been coaching the girls for 4 years. She began by filling in for the former coach, enjoyed it, and has had some very good squads to work with.

About 22 girls each year try out for the squads. A few years ago 75 girls tried out. The girls are selected by a panel of judges. It is difficult to be chosen for these squads. Those who have been on the squads have some advantage over newcomers.

Members have certain qualifications to maintain to be a pom pon girl. Each must attend practice sessions of 1 hour and 45 minutes, 4 days a week. They must hold a "B" average and not afraid of hard work.

A pom pon squad's year begins in September and ends after Easter vacation. Some squads have worked through the summer on car washes and other fund raising activities.

Sweat it Out

The Varsity Cheerleaders started off the year with new uniforms. "The reason for the sweats was not only for variety but also because it really does get cold cheering at night," stated Captain Lori Coan.

Besides facing the cold nights, the squads both J.V. and Varsity practice many hard hours which are usually arranged around the girls schedules. Sometimes the cheerleaders must sacrifice a special event in order to get to a practice. "But it's worth it, said Jessica Ihler, especially when you can get the crowd's participation."

Advisor Mrs. Debbie Lively, special education teacher for the area believes that 100% participation is needed for a good squad. Mrs. Lively said that one of the biggest rewards of being the cheerleading advisor is the satisfaction so great just knowing she is helping the girls, she added, that a by product is headaches.

J.V. Captain Heidi Luxton said, "Cheerleading makes me feel in charge and like I can do anything." Although she feels that competition between the two squads.

J.V. and Varsity do sometimes work together to better the cheerleading squads of Arthur Hill.

Students Enjoy Second Year at the CAS

The Center for the Arts and Science is in its second year of operation. It is designed to meet the special needs of talented students with grade levels ranging from seventh to twelfth. They attend school for two and a half hours every day.

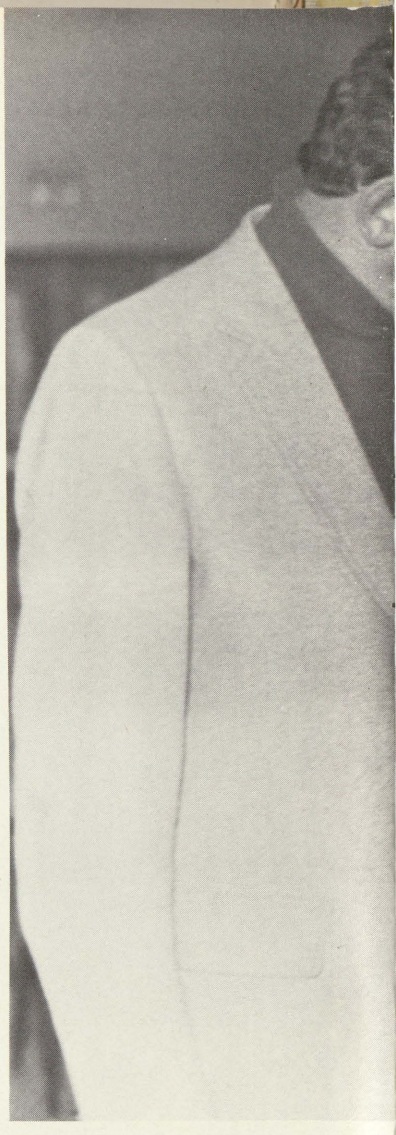

Last year, the center was mainly centered around the fine arts such as dance, theater, and art. This year though, had a few additions. Two of them were crafts and a math/science class.

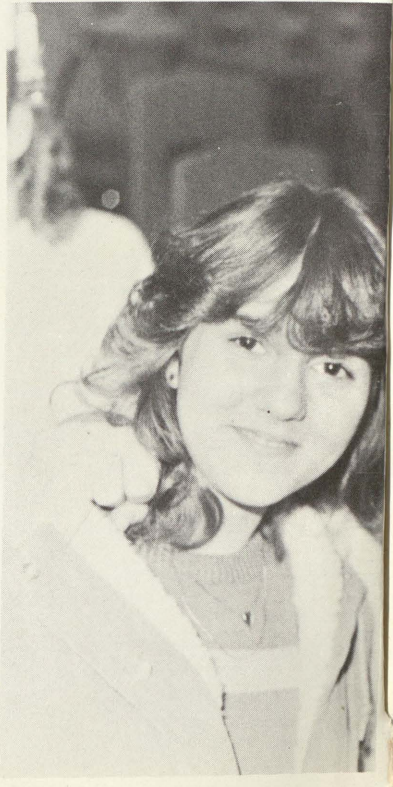

A major project of this year was getting the stage and dance floors refinished. The students at CAS also put on a play called "Guys N' Dolls", which was held at the end of February.

This year was a much more organized and productive year than last. CAS will be even better in the years to come.

Pep Club: Pride in the School

This year's Pep Club had approximately 35 members.

The officers for Pep Club were: Jay Fisher, Pres., Bill Carl, Vice-pres. and Angie Tutera, Secretary.

Being involved, President Jay Fisher commented that he felt Pep Club was "the only organization that is making an effort to get students involved."

The fund raising activities this year were: selling football pins, and holding the Homecoming Dance.

As far as student involvement, Fisher felt it stayed relatively steady, it could've been better, could've been worse."

During Blue and Gold Week, a Basketball game was held between the Pep Club/Student Council and the Faculty on Thursday.

Mr. Gary Knight was this year's advisor; he commented that Pep Club benefited students in that it promoted a "sense of pride in our school and a teamwork approach to sharing that pride with others within our school."

Overall, student involvement was the main goal of the Pep Club.

The Cast

An award winning cast suported the real life drama that took place daily at Arthur Hill.

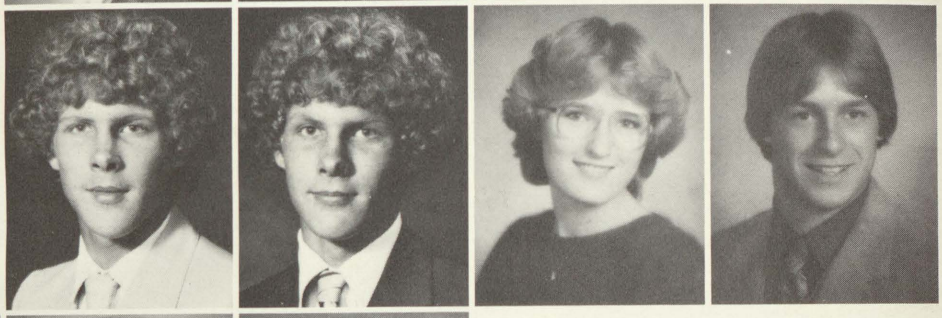

Each of the cast members played his role perfectly and without rehersal.

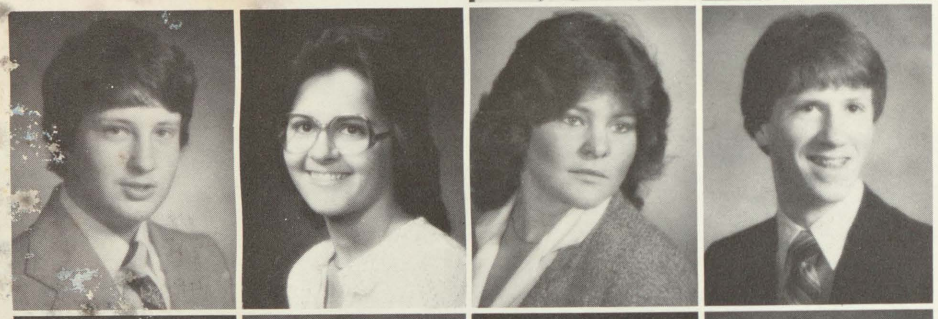

As the drama progressed, each player basked in the glory of the spotlight contributing his own special talent to a story that would be remembered by most as 'the greatest show on earth'.

Choices, Choices!! Decisions on what stores to go to can often be a confusing experience.

Located near Court and Hamilton Street, is the Old Town Shopping District.

Did you ever get mad while watching your favorite program and all of a sudden at the most exciting part a commercial for Geritol comes on? The answer to this everyday question is simple, its because without these advertisements people would not be able to watch programs or produce yearbooks.

Thanks to the sponsors who made it possible for us to make this yearbook. As they supported our endeavor, we owe them the courtesy of supporting their businesses.

Caught without a hall pass, Mike Siegler is reprimanded by Mrs. Wacker. Clowning around after school on a Friday, Johnny Martines and Sam Pagano celebrate.

A loyal J.V. Football fan, Steve Fleminger attends yet another game.
After a grueling Advanced Comp. test, Mary Slomkowski and Cindy Ortiz congratulate each other on their success.

En route to her locker, Wendy McFarland stops for a picture.

Helping Mrs. Wagner in the Attendance Office is Cindy Bortkewicz.

Showing their drumming skills are Bill Carl, Tim Lian, and Tony Daubert.

Their task accomplished, the Legenda st takes a final bow.

The setting of the Legenda this year was A thur Hill High School.

. . . And Now the End is Here Now We Face the Final Curtain . . .

All productions must come to a close. When all the lines have been said and the last of the frames shot, it's time to step back and look at the finished product. It's time to see what's come of all the planning and hard work.

The production captures all the laughter and tears of the year and is highlighted by the important lines and memorable events. The dramatic scene when the football team made the semi-finals is there to be relived over and over. Of course, there was the comedy. Humor and spirit were featured in the scenes that composed Blue and Gold Week.

Then there was the cast. The production was supported by a strong cast. Each person, whether a student, teacher or staff member, played an important role and each role was played to near perfection.

The memory of people and things that are past, the feelings that were poured into every moment, through the magic of movies all these become part of eternity. Next year it will start all over again, with a new script, new cast, and new scenes.
